WHAT RECIPROCITY MEANS TO CONSUMER

Hon. William Templeman Addresses Electors of Ward One—How Industries of British Columbia Will Be Benefitted

On the occasion of their first meeting since reorganization the Liberals of Ward One last evening had the great pleasure of hearing an address on the issues of the moment by Hon. Wm. Templeman, Minister of Mines, who is in the city for a day or two before he returns to Ottawa from attending the Chinese immigration inquiry at Vancouver.

Mr. Templeman went into the question of reciprocity from the point of view of the consumer, demonstrating that the saving in the cost of necessities is going to be very large and then showed shortly and conclusively how the new trade arrangement will be of the utmost advantage to the staple industries of this province.

Mr. Templeman then took up the great question of the day, reciprocity, and began by a reference to the changed attitude of the Conservative party towards the policy which it had been in favor of when in power, and until the Liberal government succeeded in securing an agreement. But like the cry of disloyalty raised in the case of the navy it was all for effect, all with the desire to make people think that Liberals were doing something which would lead to dismemberment of the Empire. They did not believe it themselves; it was simply a weak attempt to arouse antagonism to a government where they had no sound arguments to advance. Mr. Templeman remarked, however, that there was less of this cry of disloyalty being raised in Victoria and British Columbia generally than in other parts of the Dominion.

Briefly reviewing the history of the attempt to secure reciprocal trade relations with the United States, Mr. Templeman spoke of the Elgin treaty from 1854 to 1866, during which period the prosperity of the east was undoubted. This treaty had been negotiated while a Conservative government was in power in Canada. Then after confederation, in 1868, the first tariff law adopted there was a standing offer to the United States of reciprocal trade relations whenever the U. S. would give us reciprocity in natural products. In 1869 Sir John Rose went to Washington to try to negotiate a treaty and failed. In 1879 the standing offer was repeated in the tariff and in 1871 Sir John A. Macdonald again tried to secure a treaty. In 1874 the Liberal government came in and Alexander Mackenzie sent George Brown to Washington, where a treaty was negotiated but was rejected by the United States Senate.

In 1878, after the adoption of the national policy, the tariff contained a standing offer of reciprocity which remained until 1891, when Sir John A. Macdonald went to the country on the question of reciprocity, dissolving the House because he wanted a declaration of the people on that issue. In 1892 the Liberal party in convention at Ottawa put in their platform a plank endorsing the policy, and in 1898 under the Laurier government the joint high commission discussed it, and it would probably have been agreed to but for the fact that an agreement could not be reached on the Alaska boundary, the fisheries and other matters, and so the whole thing fell to the ground.

From 1854 to 1911 reciprocity has been approved of by both political parties, and as the Conservatives were longer in power and made more attempts to secure an agreement it did not lie in their mouths to attack the government for accomplishing the very thing they had been strenuously advocating for so long. (Hear, hear.)

How Consumer Benefits.

The agreement which had now been concluded is a business agreement, Mr. Templeman went on to say, and the question of how it would affect Canada. (Concluded on page 14.)

ROOSEVELT MAY BE

Ex-Governor of Missouri Says
Former President Wields
Much Influence

(Times Leased Wire.)
Spokane, Wash., March 21.—The Progressives will control the next Republican convention and the Roosevelt sentiment has increased considerably of late, epitomizes the remarks of Jos. W. Folk, ex-governor of Missouri, who is here to-day on a tour of the west.

"Roosevelt is not down as many seemingly believe," said Folk. "He wields much influence. If the rank and file of voters have their way, and they have learned to do so, I believe that either he or La Follette will be the next presidential nominee. And if the voters don't have their way, the federal machine that disregarded their voices, will be heard from later.

"According to my ideas, the wave of Progressive Democracy is strong enough to control both the great political parties. I believe this sentiment is for real Democratic principles and if the Democrats make a strong, firm stand for real principles, they will profit by this sentiment. The Progressives in the Republican party, by advocating Democratic ideas saved the Regular organization from complete annihilation.

"Yes, I favor reciprocity. It is a good thing—a step in the right direction."

TROOPS ON DUTY IN STRIKE DISTRICT

Miners Determined to Prevent Work in Mines in Illinois

(Times Leased Wire.)
Gillespie, Ill., March 21.—Troops arrived here to-day prepared to prevent rioting by 2,000 idle miners who have threatened to assault any miner attempting to return to work.

Strikers policed the town last night, driving the city patrolmen from the streets.

Nine deputies who were sent to Bent last night to protect the miners who wished to return to work, encountered 300 armed miners and were forced to leave town under penalty of death.

GOVERNMENT OF JAPAN SUSTAINED

ATTEMPT TO IMPEACH
KATSURA CABINET FAILS

Foreign Minister Says Friendly Relations With U. S. Will Be Maintained

(Times Leased Wire.)
Tokyo, March 21.—Efforts by the anti-American and Nationalist party in Japan to impeach Prime Minister Katsura and his cabinet to-day in the diet, failed utterly, and Foreign Minister Katsura improved the occasion to declare that the Japanese government was determined to maintain the present friendly relations with the United States.

The motion of impeachment was introduced in the lower house of the diet. As this was the last day of the session, it was hoped to rush it through and get a verdict against the government. The resolution demanded censure of the cabinet for the conclusion of the recently signed treaty with the United States as "humiliating" to Japan because of the fact that no further privileges were granted to Japan in America.

Replying to the charges, Baron Komura declared that Japan, by the new agreement, were placed on an equal footing with other nations in immigration to the United States and announced the determination of the government to adhere to its present policy and to maintain friendly relations with the United States.

On a vote the impeachment proposal failed, a large majority of the diet voting confidence in the government.

FIFTY MILLIONS FOR CARRYING MAILS

U. S. Post Office Department
Will Pay Railways $5,000,-
000 More Than Formerly

(Times Leased Wire.)
Portland, Ore., March 21.—Uncle Sam will pay the railroads of the United States about $50,000,000 this year for carrying the mails, an advance of $5,000,000 over any previous figure. The new postal law, copies of which have been received by post office officials in Portland, shows the appropriation for the inland transportation of mails by railroads to be $50,000,000, which will be available on July 1 of this year.

Wooden mail cars will have to go out of commission soon, however, unless what may be a joker in the new postal law, kills the intent of the department.

TRAINS COLLIDE

Engineer and Fireman Sustain Serious Injuries—Two Engines Demolished.

Kingman, Ariz., March 21.—Passenger train No. 1, Santa Fe westbound, ran into an open switch in the yards here late yesterday and collided head-on with a local train of the Western Railway of Arizona, standing on the siding. Engineer Crooks and Fireman Wood of the passenger train were badly hurt and several passengers were thrown from their berths and slightly injured. Crooks and Wood to-day are in a critical condition. Both engines are demolished and traffic was blocked for more than an hour.

PROPOSED STRIKE ABANDONED

Lisbon, March 21.—After 24 hours' effort to stir up trouble for the Republican government by a general strike, backers of the proposed march abandoned their plan to-day. The strike at no time promised to become effective.

MUCH ACTIVITY ON THE ISLAND

CHEERY STATEMENT
BY E. & N. OFFICIAL

Great Deal of Land Clearing in Progress—Army Immigrants Doing Well

While Victoria is at present enjoying unexampled prosperity, with the prospects for future development more rosy than ever before in the history of the city, other districts, on the lower half of the island, at all events, are "going some" also. This was the cheery message conveyed to the Times this morning by H. E. Beasley, superintendent of the Esquimalt & Nanaimo railway company, who has just returned from a tour of inspection up the line which extended as far as Alberni.

"The season is opening splendidly," said Mr. Beasley this morning, "and the prospects could hardly be better. During my trip I was most agreeably surprised to note the very great increase in the number of cleared patches of land. Particularly was this noticeable from McBride Junction south. I counted a great number of these additional clearings, which were not in evidence last year."

"The Salvation Army colonization scheme is working admirably. The company agreed to clear 12 farms and assist the Army officials in the settlement of the same. Eight of these farms are now occupied by families who seem well content with their lot in life, and I understand that four other families for the remainder of the farms are now on the way from the Old Country."

"These Salvation Army immigrants are so well satisfied with their prospects that they have arranged to take over an additional parcel of land surrounding their present holdings and develop the same themselves on their own lines. There should be a constantly increasing number of these desirable settlers to Vancouver Island."

Asked how work was progressing on the Alberni branch of the E. & N., Mr. Beasley continued: "Mr. Beasley, we have received every assurance that it has proved of great advantage to the people of the Alberni district as well as to those at points south. There has, however, been a great amount of heavy construction work to do and it will take some time before trains are running on a regular schedule into the port of Alberni."

"Just at present the contractors are putting in several very large bridges on the east shore of Cameron Lake. This is a very difficult piece of construction work, perhaps as difficult as any in the whole province. But the line is graded right through to Port Alberni and once we are through with the bridges at the point mentioned there should be quick work in track laying the balance of the distance to tidewater, 25 miles."

Mr. Beasley continued by saying that the C. P. R. would shortly undertake the erection of a large dock at Port Alberni, the old Waterhouse dock having recently been destroyed by fire.

Says Parliament Bill is First Step to Curtail Power of Upper House

(Times Leased Wire.)
London, March 21.—Methods of attack upon the old time prerogatives of the House of Lords were discussed to-day by Ramsay MacDonald, leader of the Labor party in the House of Commons.

"The Parliament Bill is the first step," said MacDonald to the United Press. "Real reform is impossible so long as the House of Lords is armed with the veto with which to thwart the legislative efforts of the government. The Tories are attempting to kill the measure with amendments. The Lords will oppose every attack upon them and the King will be compelled to create 500 new peers to outvote them."

"King George, when Prince of Wales, was Tory in his sympathies, but I believe has tried to overcome his partisanship. If he refuses to create the peers the present ministry must resign. The Tories could not carry on the government with the majority against them, hence parliament would need to be dissolved and a general election called."

Cleveland, Ohio, March 21.—The dedicatory exercises of Cleveland's $4,000,000 federal building were concluded last night with a banquet under the auspices of the chamber of commerce, at which 350 of the city's leading men and distinguished guests were present. The main address was by Attorney-General Wickersham, who spoke on "The State and Nation."

The attorney-general strongly endorsed Mr. Taft's plan for reciprocity with Canada. He pointed out that the total gross tonnage of the American mercantile marine for the year 1909 at all Atlantic and Gulf ports was 5,590,394 tons and at the lake ports 2,782,481 tons.

"Only a vexatious revenue tariff burdens the exchange of trade and commerce between us," he said. "The aggregate amount of Canadian products is not large. The amount of duties collected by us upon them is inconceivable; the amount collected by Canada upon our exports to her shores is trivial. Her labor is of the same character as ours. No principle of protection to our home industries is therefore involved in establishing the greatest freedom of trade and commerce between the United States and Canada."

"The days of isolated national life are past. We cannot longer look at our next door neighbors as aliens or strangers. Their interests are in large measure bound up with ours. In the continued and closer union of the Anglo-Saxon people lies the world's best hope for its continuous prosperity."

(Times Leased Wire.)
Viterbo, Italy, March 21.—Flat contradiction of the testimony of state witnesses was made on the stand to-day by Nicola Morra, accused of the actual murder of Genaro Cuocolo, to revenge an offence against the Camorra. Although subjected to a grilling cross-examination, he refused to admit that he had anything to do with the murder or that the Camorra society was in any way connected with it.

STOLYPIN FEARS CHINESE CRISIS

DECIDES TO RETAIN POST TEMPORARILY

Defeat of Plans to Russianize
Poland Cause of Premier's Resignation

(Times Leased Wire.)
St. Petersburg, March 21.—Reports that Russian Minister Korostovitch has been assassinated in Peking were still unconfirmed to-day, but fearing that they may prove true Premier Stolypin, who resigned yesterday, announced to-day that he would temporarily retain his post in an effort to avoid a crisis in the Chinese situation.

The senate's rejection of Stolypin's plan to Russianize Poland is given to-day as the chief reason for the premier's resignation, which is regarded as a reactionary triumph. The bureaucrats, deeming Stolypin dangerously liberal, are said to have seized the defeat of his Polish plans as an opportunity to force his resignation.

The resignation of the premier came as a surprise to the emperor, who was greatly disturbed for a time. He did not wish to hear it, but M. Stolypin explained his motives and indicated his firm intention to withdraw from public life. In the meantime the emperor instituted an inquiry into Treppoff's account of his conversation with his majesty and this inquiry disclosed that his majesty was actually reported as saying: "Vote according to your conscience, not according to your ministers."

Kokovoff, who will probably be the new premier, has a reputation as a careful statesman. The duma's attitude has not yet been defined, but M. Kokovoff has undoubtedly done much in the last years to regain the confidence impaired by his exclamation in the duma in May, 1909: "Thank God there is no parliament in Russia."

On the Finnish, Jewish and Christian questions Kokovoff has maintained an enlightened stand. He opposed the issues of nationalism and co-operated with the duma in effecting extensive reforms in the finances of the country. He shut off many pre-existing claims on the treasury, based in many cases on falsified imperial grant, and millions thereby were saved yearly.

Worswick Co. Starts Paving View Street—City Widening Fort Street

With the advent of settled weather there is a noticeable change in the prosecution of civic enterprises, which with the very large number of private undertakings under way creates an atmosphere of expansion and progress in the city which is quite unprecedented.

The Worswick company, which has just been awarded the contracts for the paving with asphalt of View and Fort streets, commenced work on the first-mentioned thoroughfare this morning.

"We have all told a hundred men at work, with about twenty-five teams, on our various contracts throughout the city," said Harry Worswick, superintendent of construction for the company, this morning. "We intend to push the work just as rapidly as possible. The people want the streets improved as quickly as possible and we wish to help them as far as we are able."

It may be added that it is probable that the Worswick company will likely establish a large additional asphalt plant in the city.

Under the direction of the city engineer a gang of men yesterday commenced the work of widening Fort street between Douglas and Cook, doing the work which has to be done by the corporation—tearing up the old sidewalks and putting down new ones at the wider distance. A start on this job has been made from Cook street west.

PRESIDENT DIAZ WILL NOT RESIGN

PROPOSAL TO HOLD NATIONAL CONVENTION

Report That Limantour Has Been Placed in Charge of Interior Affairs

(Times Leased Wire.)
El Paso, Texas, March 21.—That Jose Yves Limantour, principal adviser of President Diaz, has been placed in charge of the Mexican interior affairs and that he soon will issue an order to the insurgents to abandon their arms and send delegations to a national convention at Mexico City was stated in official circles at Juarez to-day. The convention, it is said, will take up reforms demanded by the insurgents.

It is declared that President Diaz will not resign and that he will not order a new election as long as a single man is under arms against the government.

A large body of insurgents, it is reported, crossed the Rio Grande into Mexico near Langtry last night with arms and ammunition. A company of the 23rd infantry under Capt. Dillingham started for Langtry to-day, which is 300 miles below here.

Washington, D. C., March 21.—The administration apparently "marked time" to-day until the result of Minister Limantour's mission to Mexico City shall have become known. It was learned that Limantour carried official messages to President Diaz from the Taft administration.

On account of the absence of several members, the cabinet meeting set for to-day was postponed until tomorrow. It was asserted that no need for hasty action by the cabinet existed, and that the president personally does not fear international complications from the Japanese angle.

The war department announced to-day that hereafter it will publish all orders to troops participating in military maneuvers.

CANADA'S TRADE

STILL GROWING

(Special to the Times.)

Ottawa, March 21.—The total trade of Canada for eleven months of the fiscal year totals $687,377,488, an increase of $75,795,507, compared with the corresponding period last year. In February the trade totalled $62,946,412, an increase of $6,655,312. For the full year it is estimated the trade will reach $750,000,000.

Munroe coming to an agreement as to the purchase price, which, on the present actual market value of the timber, should easily aggregate more than half a million dollars.

ACRES OF FLOWERS.

In the gardens of Dempster Brothers at Mount Tolmie is to be seen just now a sight only to be had at this early season in this garden city—acres of flowers in bloom. There are two acres, mostly in daffodils, now being cut for the market, and to-day a consignment of fifteen thousand blooms left for Seattle. Last season there were as many as 20,000 blooms shipped out in single day, half for Seattle and half for Vancouver.

The gardens are a pleasurable sight just now and many people walk out there solely to see them.

MILLION MAY DIE IN ANHWEI PROVINCE

Famished Natives Kill Starving
Dogs and Eat Them—
Bark Used as Food

New York, March 21.—The picture of nearly famished Chinese killing starving dogs and eating them, and the warning that a million lives will be lost in the Anhwei province alone before the spring crops mature unless help from the outside world reaches China, are contained in a communication received by the board of foreign mission of the Presbyterian church. Pathetic details of sufferings from the famine in Anhwei and other provinces of China reach the mission boards here in every mail. A letter came from Rev. Thomas Carter, a missionary at Hwai Yuen, in Anhwei province.

"I never really knew what the Lord's Prayer meant until to-day," he writes. "We came to a village where some Christians gathered for worship. To hear that company of men say 'Give us this day our daily bread' had a strange sound when we knew that not one of them had so much as seen bread for many a day, unless you call pressed sweet potato vines bread. Somehow, that prayer must be answered. We cannot let these people starve."

A million persons in the region north of his station, Mr. Carter says, are to die of starvation before summer unless help comes from outside. He writes of the scene, as it impressed him, in the following terms:

"It would be hard to draw a picture of the famine district that would not be altogether misleading. The country looks much the same as any stretch of country looks anywhere in China: long stretches of good rice fields just beginning to be green.

"It is only as we look closely and ask questions that we find out the real state of affairs. We look at the fields that looked so prosperous, and we realize that those fields were all under water last summer, the fields of over 2,000,000 people, and that the wheat we see will not be ready until June, and before that time, unless help comes, the larger part of the people—the planted the wheat will be beyond using it.

"And now we look again at the persons who have come down to meet us with their rice bowls. In the bowls there is no rice. They contain chiefly hot water and some weeds gathered from the field, mixed with a few grains of precious wheat bought with the relief money given by the government, relief that amounts to about three cents, given only to the very poorest, that is, to about half the population.

"This is something of what famine means now. What it is going to mean soon we scarcely dare to think, for it is still five months before wheat harvests. Already in many places the bark is taken from the trees and eaten. 'The country is perfectly peaceful, more so than usual, it seems to the stranger, for there are no dogs to bark at the passerby. They are all starved or eaten, or both. The same is true of all other animals.'

REPLIES TO ATTACK ON EARL GREY

Secretary of Ottawa Overseas
Club Writes Regarding
John S. Ewart's Letter

Ottawa, March 21.—The secretary of the local Overseas Club has issued a strong letter in reply to J. S. Ewart, K. C., who took exception to Earl Grey's connection with that organization. The letter states that the local organization was formed unassisted by Earl Grey personally, but the organizers were sure of His Excellency's good wishes.

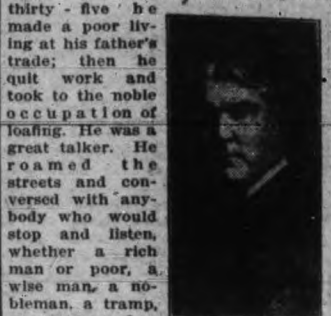

It continues: "The statement that an attack would increase Earl Grey's popularity is no doubt the most accurate in Mr. Ewart's letter." It states that Earl Grey has not made a political speech during his occupation of his high office. That he is in favor of Imperial federation, believes in contribution to the British Admiralty for universal military training, in tariff reform, Imperial preference and so on will come as news to many citizens of Canada who did not know him previous to his coming. These are not policies he has preached on platforms here, and it seems as if a breach of personal confidence has been committed. At least an attack is in very poor taste. The letter further points out that a "little Englander" was never sent abroad by England, and argues that the vast majority of the people of Canada feel that we should do our share towards providing defence against foreign attack, and that it is a serious reflection on the principle members of the cabinet, the leader of the opposition, etc., to say that they did not know what they were signing when they signed the application form for membership.

SEATTLE'S NEW COUNCIL

Seattle, Wash., March 21.—The new city council of nine members recently elected by the reform element went into office yesterday. The new council is pledged to attend to city affairs and work for a clean city. All councilmen were elected as progressives. Max Wardell, who, as acting mayor, started the fight which ended in the recall of Mayor Gill, is president of the council.

THINKING THEMES BY DR. FRANK CRANE

I will describe a man for you, and ask you what you think of him. His father was a stone-cutter and his mother a midwife. Till the age of thirty-five he made a poor living at his father's trade; then he quit work and took to the noble occupation of loafing. He was a great talker. He roamed the streets and conversed with anybody who would stop and listen, whether a rich man or poor, a wise man, a nobleman, a tramp, or a woman of no reputation. He was easily the ugliest man in town. He was fat, and who respects a fat man? He had a short snail-neck, a round and bald head, and nose thick like a lobster-eyes. He loved jokes and his wit often ran as close to the soil as that of Rabelais or Lincoln. He was not a nice gentleman. In fact he was coarse. Having but one pair of shoes he never wore them, but went barefoot summer and winter. His garment was generally soiled. He was not sensitive, but said that his nose being turned upward he could smell better, his eyes protruding he could see on all sides, and his lips being so thick they were the better for kissing. He never made over $50 a year, and refused the money his friends offered him for fear he would grow fatter if he were wealthier. He married the worst shrew in the place, who often led him home by the ear, rated him with her tongue and belabored him with a broomstick.

Now who was this, no'er-do-well, this Silenus who could drink the stoutest toper under the table, this ignoramus who always professed to know nothing at all? His name was Socrates. He had the greatest brain ever housed in a human body. "No man," says Grote, "has ever arisen who could draw the bow of Socrates, the father of philosophy—the greatest of all thinkers."

BORDER WARFARE RUINS RANCHERS

Stores and Cattle Taken by Mexican Federal Troops and Insurgents

San Diego, Cal., March 21.—Military tactics by the Mexican government keeps the border insurrection from reaching a crisis or conclusion. While troops are idle at El Paso, where the band plays all the time, a handful of Mexican soldiers at Tecomate are waiting to fight 200 insurgents. The federal number 125, and urgent requests have been sent to Ensenada for additional men.

There is a supposition that the body of troops that was supposed to have left Ensenada last week under Colonel La Jol would flank the insurgents by coming upon them in a roundabout way from the east. If they succeed in the flanking movement, they can, by co-operating with the federals at Tecomate, drive the insurgents across the border where the United States will have to take care of them.

The ranchers between Tia Juana and Picoch are bearing the brunt of the border warfare. First their scanty stores and small herds of cattle were drawn upon to feed the federal soldiers advancing to meet the rebels. When the federals passed, the rebels came and cleaned up what was left. Then, for a finishing touch, the federals came again, used the ranch sites for battlefields, effectually destroying even the improvements. Now the unfortunate ranchers along the border line are poor beyond redemption and must work with the railroad gangs.

Wounded By Rebels.

El Paso, Texas, March 21.—A special to the Herald from Torreon says that H. E. Driscoll, an American in charge of a large ranch owned by St. Louis capitalists, was shot four times by revolutionists who attacked the ranch and demanded money. When he could give them none, the leader shouted, "Then that," and began shooting. The American is now in a hospital at Torreon, critically wounded.

Midnight Fight.

Presidio, Texas, March 21, via Marfa, Texas.—A short moonlight battle Sunday night on the banks of the Rio Grande nullified the siege of Ojinaga. The federals, who planned to rush the insurgents' lines, quickly fell back to their original position under a lively fire.

Anticipating an attack from the rear of the city, the besieged troops, for an hour, kept up a steady fire into the bushes. The insurgents at the time were beyond rifle range. In the night the rebel lines were advanced a short distance, but otherwise the situation is unchanged.

For two days the federals have been unable to get supplies from the American side. United States customs officials refused to permit exporting except at the river ford, and that is under the guns of the revolutionists. Crowds of sightseers come to Presidio every day to witness the daily battle. Automobiles are numerous along the river bank, and an enterprising Mexican has arranged a bush grand stand.

Pancho Alvarado, a noted outlaw, was killed in Saturday's fighting at the guardhouse before Ojinaga. Alvarado, who is credited with several murders, including the killing of Mounted Inspector Chapman, of the United States customs service, was arrested several weeks ago by a detachment of infantry for looting a farmhouse near San Carlos. He was given a trial and sentenced to death. While an attack on the customs guard house, still in possession of the federals, was in progress. Alvarado pleaded to be permitted to die fighting. He was given a gun and took his place in the rifle pits. Within half an hour, one of the insurgents fell wounded, and Alvarado in an endeavor to drag the man within the rebel lines was shot through the brain.

BRIBERY TRIAL

Springfield, Ill., March 21.—The trial of State Senator John Broderick for alleged bribery of State Senator D. W. Holtzlaw to vote for William Lorimer for United States senator began yesterday. The session was devoted to the examination of witnesses. The indictment charges that Broderick paid Holtzlaw $2,500 for his vote.

MR. TEMPLEMAN ON RECIPROCITY.

It was clearly shown by Hon. William Templeman, addressing the Liberals of Victoria West last night, that British Columbia had everything to gain from the initiation of the reciprocity agreement between this country and the United States. By quoting a few figures the Minister indicated how the consumers, especially those who used chiefly staple foods, would be benefited. The removal of the duties from such articles of consumption as potatoes would reduce the cost of living to everyone, and the result would be that all would have something to gain from the ratification of the agreement. British Columbia imports nearly fifteen million dollars' worth of natural products and raises slightly over fourteen million dollars' worth. The removal of the duties would therefore make a very appreciable difference in the cost of living, which at the present time is very high.

Turning to the industries of the province, it was further shown that most of these would be benefited. The only business about which there was any doubt was the fruit-growing industry, and even in this case it was shown that the lands just across the border were held at much higher figures than on this side the boundary line. This being so, Mr. Templeman prophesied that the fruit-growers of the United States would flock into this country to take up the cheaper lands, on which they could obtain results equally as good as on their own lands. The produce would be shipped to all the great centres of the continent, where people were willing to pay for the very best, such as is raised in this province.

The speech of the minister was convincing, albeit lacking in those flourishes of rhetoric and bombast which are features of some political meetings which have been held in this city by opponents of the Dominion government. Everyone went away convinced that Reciprocity would be to the general advantage.

Other subjects of interest were taken up, but not at any length. The enthusiasm of the gathering was a happy augury for the future of Liberalism in this city.

RECIPROCITY AND FRUIT GROWING.

The cry of certain Canadian politicians that reciprocity would ruin the fruit industry of British Columbia has been taken more or less seriously in Great Britain, from which country many immigrants come here annually to go into the fruit growing business. Inquiries have been made and the consensus of opinion is that British Columbia fruit is so good that it can hold its own against any competition. Two letters appear in the current number of Canada, both proving that there is no fear of injury to the British Columbia fruit industry. One of these is from Ernest H. Arnold, who grows fruit in East Kootenay. Mr. Arnold says:

"(1) The apple production of the United States within the past fourteen years has decreased about two-thirds. Within this period the population of the U. S. A. has increased about twenty millions, the apple has become more popular as an article of diet, and railway transportation has made its distribution more easy.

"(2) Notwithstanding the tariff, Ontario, the province of Canada supposed to be most heavily hit by reciprocity in regard to fruit, last year shipped 16,000 barrels into the U. S. A.

"(3) Concerning British Columbia: Apple-growers in the adjoining States of Washington and Oregon get equally good or better prices for their apples than the B. C. growers, their lands are dearer to buy, and the apples consequently dearer to produce. The freight rates are by no means inconsiderable, and there is brisk home demand for their apples; consequently there is no inducement to invade British Columbia markets at cut prices.

"(4) The removal of tariffs by the U. S. A. on coal, timber, and wheat will immensely develop these industries in British Columbia and the prairies, and create populations of workers needing food, thus increasing the home markets for the British Columbia growers.

"(5) The present U. S. tariff against apples is 25 cents per bushel, and the Canadian tariff (40 cents per barrel) approximately 15 cents per bushel.

"(6) At the prices obtained in Canada for first-grade Washington and Oregon apples the protection is only equal to from 7 per cent. to 10 per cent. on value, which, if the growers had any real over-production, would not prevent competition with British Columbia fruits, as there is ample margin of profits to cut prices 25 per cent. and still make profits greater than those of most businesses.

"The tariff, therefore, has not been British Columbia's protection so far as apples are concerned, but the factors of supply and demand.

"British Columbia can produce the finest apples in the world, and it needs people to eat them. Canada has a rapidly growing population, but the United States has a population of ninety millions already existing, and growing rapidly, too. It is a fine market to throw open to the British Columbia growers."

Mr. Arnold thinks that the agreement will considerably enhance the value of British Columbia irrigated fruit lands, and quotes a letter from Mr. T. W. Stirling, one of the most experienced fruit-growers in the province, in support of this view.

PROSPECTS AND IMPROVEMENTS.

Now and then the daily papers can give positive particulars of some real estate transaction, but the majority of the deals put through are never spoken of except among the parties directly interested. During the last few weeks large sums of money have been sent in from Winnipeg and other centres, and people who have been here for only a day or two, ostensibly on a social visit, have left fifty to one hundred thousand dollars apiece behind them, taking home in its place the deeds of properties. All these people have been impressed with the position of British Columbia at present occupies. They have felt that here is a field for investment such as cannot be found in any other place in the Dominion to-day.

In the near future Victoria is bound to become one of the great seaports of the continent. Her position insures that much. She will supply not only the markets of Vancouver Island, but will also do just as much business on the mainland. Already there are several lines of steamers calling here regularly which do not call at any other Canadian port. Every year that passes will see the business of the port increase, and once the fact becomes thoroughly recognized that there are advantages here which no other place on the continent possesses, there will be such a movement as has scarcely yet been thought of. The trade of Vancouver Island alone will be sufficient to make this a big city, many times larger than Vancouver is to-day. Add to this the business which must be done with mainland points, and the possibilities are seen to be almost unlimited.

In order that the business of the port may not be retarded it is time that some steps were taken to insure an increase of our dock accommodation. It takes a long time to build docks, and while they are being built ships may have to go elsewhere. As soon as the Indian Reserve becomes available for commercial purposes there will be plenty of room for railway terminals, but much more than that is needed at the present time. There must be some way of connecting the ocean docks with the railways. Whether that will be done by bridging the harbor, by building a railway through the heart of the city to the present docks, or by building more docks on the other side of the harbor, we are not in a position to say; but that one of these methods will have to be adopted seems certain. Victoria wants the very best of facilities for distribution. In the past most of the distributing has been done by water, but with the building of new railways and the improvements to and extension of the old one conditions will have changed, and we cannot afford to miss any of the advantages which might accrue from improved facilities.

Calgary has appointed an industrial commissioner and will provide him with funds to do the advertising of the city. It was found that the council could not legally appoint a publicity commissioner, but the same work will be done under another name.

DR. SAUNDERS.

In the retirement of Dr. William Saunders from the position of Director of Experimental Farms, the Dominion Government has lost a faithful servant, an able departmental head, and a scientist of note. His work throughout the Dominion is recognized by all parties as having done much towards placing agriculture among the scientific professions. There was a time, not so very many years ago, when the farmer knew little of the why and wherefore in connection with his work. He did certain things because they usually produced certain results, but why he did them he had but a vague idea. The day of the experimental farm and the student lecturers who went out from the agricultural colleges made a great change in the farmer. To-day the agricultural or horticulturalist who does not know enough of chemistry and of the general cause and effect which comes within the range of his work is the exception rather than the rule. The farmer is becoming educated, and such men as Dr. Saunders have been most prominent in bringing about the change.

Dr. Saunders was born in England, but he came to Canada when yet a lad. He was first a manufacturing chemist, but his love for biological study and all kinds of outdoor experimentation induced him to establish a fruit farm, where he made a special study of insect pests, and also took up the study of hybridization. Forestry also engaged his attention, and when the experimental farms were first established Dr. Saunders was at once chosen to have charge of the work. He is known here among farmers and others, who will join in wishing him many years of enjoyment of life in retirement.

The Toronto Globe thus gently slaps the wrists of some "ladies of high degree" who have associated themselves together for the purpose of fighting reciprocity: The anti-reciprocity agitation is in some of its phases becoming ridiculous. Free trade in farm products is opposed by certain ladies of Montreal because it will bring annexation and the lax divorce laws of the United States in its train. Some of the prominent opponents of reciprocity have been able to take advantage of United States divorce laws without waiting for annexation.

William Aitken, M. P., whose recent election to the British House of Commons was almost a sensation, is now on his way to this country for the purpose of trying to induce the Dominion government to appeal to the country on the reciprocity proposals. Mr. Aitken is a clever young man, but we doubt if he will be able to persuade Sir Wilfrid that it is to the best interests of the country to bring on an election at once. It would seem that as Aitken has turned his attention to British politics, it might be well for him to take up some of the problems which are of more interest to his constituents than reciprocity between Canada and the United States. This is something which has to do with the countries interested and will be settled by them without outside interference.

A phase of the Indian Reserve question which has not yet been mentioned is that of the fate of the industries which are at present conducted there. Two shipbuilding and ship repairing yards are at present being operated on the reserve, one by William Turpel and the other, the Star Yards, operated by the B. C. Marine Railway Co. of Esquimalt. While nothing has as yet been said about these, it is to be presumed that provision will be made by which these industries will not be forced to shut down because of the selling of the land. The present leaseholders would doubtless be willing to pay a reasonable price for the property. Whatever is done it would be against the best interests of the city to have these industries shut down or crippled.

Notwithstanding necessary restrictions in the interests of good citizenship, the total immigration into Canada during the past year was over three hundred thousand. There is a possibility that for the current year the returns when presented will show an influx into the country of close upon half a million souls. The tide has turned in the direction of Canada, but it has only commenced to run. There is a feature in connection with the immigration statistics, also, that is particularly satisfactory. The majority of the arrivals are of the right sort. The largest number hail from the British Isles, Americans being second in point of numerical strength, and the minority coming from the continent of Europe. American settlers brought with them the greatest amount of wealth.

ELECTION PETITION DISMISSED.

(Special to the Times.)

Brandon, Man., March 21.—Judge Cumberland this morning dismissed the petition against Mayor Fleming in the majority election case, costs being against the petitioner, Wallace. The judge saw no reason to upset the election and felt all concerned did their best to conduct the election properly.

PLANNING ATTACK ON FEDERAL FORCE

Rebel Leader Says Diaz Must Act Quickly If He Wants Peace

(Times Leased Wire.)

El Paso, Texas, March 21.—Decisive attack upon the Mexican federalists in Chihuahua state is to-day being planned by Madero and Orozco, in case peace negotiations fail, according to advices received here to-day from a tour of state department, from Madero himself. Madero is said to have 1,000 men and Orozco, 800.

"If nothing comes of Limatour's mission," said Garza, Madero will wage the bitterest kind of warfare. We will bring matters to a head. If President Diaz wants peace he must act quickly."

Rebel Forces.

El Paso, Texas, March 21.—Seven thousand rebels are encamped in the states of Tepic, Sonora and Sinaloa, according to a newspaper correspondent who returned here to-day from a tour of three states. Few Americans, he said, were among the soldiers, the troops being made up almost entirely of natives.

Federals Driven Back.

Presidio, Texas, via Marfa, Texas, March 21.—Reports of a moonlight battle last night on the banks of the Rio Grande in the siege of Ojinaga, reached here to-day. According to reports, the federals, who planned to rush the insurgents lines, were forced back to their original position by a lively fire. No fatalities were reported.

EXTENDS OLIVE BRANCH TO REDMOND

William O'Brien Suggests 'Union of the Two Irish Parties'

(Times Leased Wire.)

London, March 21.—In a letter to the Times to-day William O'Brien, leader of the Independent Nationalists, makes overtures looking to a reconciliation with John Redmond, chairman of the Irish parliamentary party. The suggestion is offered by O'Brien that they might reunite the two Irish parties by dissolving the connection between the United Irish league and the Board of Erin.

ANTI-TREATING ORDINANCE AT TACOMA

Election in Progress To-day—Women Are Flocking to Polling Booths

(Times Leased Wire.)

Tacoma, Wash., March 21.—As a result of the election in progress here to-day, Tacoma may soon enjoy the distinction of being the only city in the country where it is an infraction of the law to buy a drink for a friend. The ordinance has already been passed by the city commission.

Early indications to-day are that the vote on the anti-treating proposition will be close, although claims as to the outcome are widely divergent. Mayor Fawcett is supremely confident that his pet measure will carry, mainly by virtue of the favor with which it is regarded by the thousands of recently enfranchised women, who are flocking to the polling places eager to cast their first vote.

Lined up on the opposite side of the question are the liquor interests, represented by the Royal Arch, and the fact they have waged has been desperate and unceasing.

Some unthinking persons regard the anti-treat measure as a joke. It is not. Any saloonkeeper will take oath that it is a serious matter and will prove it by reading the ordinance.

"Upon conviction," the measure says, "the owner or agent of any saloon shall be fined in any sum not exceeding one hundred dollars for each offence."

WOMAN IN JAIL ON CHARGE OF MURDER

Prosecuting Officials Declare Accused Shot Husband After Quarrel

(Times Leased Wire.)

Chicago, March 21.—Held for murder by the grand jury, Mrs. Charles Schenk, who confessed she shot her husband, the superintendent of the Park Ridge Coke and Gas company, passed the day in her cell here, so ill that she couldn't leave her cot.

"Yes, I shot him," said she, "but not on purpose."

The prosecuting officials, however, declare that the discovery of a second bullet implanted in the floor of their home indicates that she deliberately killed Schenk after a quarrel, and on this information, she is charged with murder.

While testifying Mrs. Schenk said that the shooting followed an all-night celebration of the 14th anniversary of the wedding of "Chick" Fraser, an ex-National league ball player. She said she had been put to bed by other women of the party, but was aroused after their departure by her husband calling. Fearing burglars, she grasped a revolver and walked to the head of the stairs. Schenk was standing at the foot of the stairway. She says the revolver was discharged then, but accidentally. She says she does not recollect anything subsequent to the discharge save that Schenk walked out of the house. His body was found next day on the lawn.

CHINA'S REPLY TO RUSSIA.

St. Petersburg, March 21.—China's reply to the Russian ultimatum dealing with the treaty of 1851, was delivered yesterday. It complies with Russia's demands and the establishment of free trade in certain districts, but leaves the limitation of monopolies for further negotiations. The foreign office is disposed to consider the reply satisfactory.

BRYAN MAY PARTICIPATE.

Believed He Will Take Active Part in Next Presidential Election.

Lincoln, Neb., March 21.—That William J. Bryan is to take an active part in the next presidential election was generally believed here to-day, because of the presence of Champ Clark, Gov. Shafroth, of Colorado, and between 1,200 and 1,500 other prominent Democrats at a complimentary dinner tendered the commoner by the Lincoln Bryan Club. It was believed that preliminary plans for the 1912 campaign were discussed at a gathering of leaders after the banquet.

RIOTING FEARED.

Gillespie, Ill., March 21.—At a late hour this afternoon a clash appeared imminent between the striking foreign coal miners and 300 Americans. Both factions are heavily armed and it was feared that serious trouble will come with darkness.

Beld, Ill., March 21.—When troops arrived here late this afternoon to suppress threatened rioting among the striking miners, Mayor Romell forbade the soldiers to leave their trains. Col. Lang ignored the mayor and the troops alighted and immediately closed 27 saloons.

The foreign miners who are striking are in a sullen mood. They failed to make any demonstration against the troops, but serious trouble is feared to-night.

CARD OF THANKS.

Sister Superior and the Sisters of St. Joseph's hospital extend most sincere thanks to the many generous friends who on Saturday last assembled to make their annual donation of linen to the institution. Headed by Mrs. Peterson, the ladies greeted the sisters with much warmth and evinced great satisfaction in being able to spend a cheerful hour with mutual friends and well-wishers.

The sisters fully appreciate the kindness again shown by the liberal donation, as well as the pleasure given by the ladies who contributed either by their singing or their presence, and the sisters hope that all to whom they are indebted may know that they are truly grateful to them.

—George Oliver, the death of whose little daughter by diphtheria at the isolation hospital some little time ago, has formed the subject of an enquiry by Dr. C. J. Fagan, instructed by the provincial government, informs the Times that the statement that Dr. Ernest Hall ever attended the child at the hospital is incorrect. He also says that a period of 17 hours elapsed between the time the child was received into the hospital and the first visit of a physician, Dr. G. A. Hall, the medical health officer. It may be added, as mentioned yesterday, that the latter in his evidence testified that in his opinion at no time did the child suffer the slightest lack of attention.

NATURAL HISTORY SOCIETY FLOURISHES

Gratifying Reports at Last Night's Annual Meeting—
Election of Officers

There was a good attendance at the annual meeting of the Natural History society held last evening in the Carnegie library rooms, when officers were elected for the ensuing year and a considerable quantity of important business transacted. It was decided among other matters to make an appropriation of $125 to be forwarded to J. R. Anderson, who is now in England, the money to be expended in purchasing some birds which will be liberated in the vicinity of Victoria. Mr. Anderson will purchase the birds at Whiteley's.

Following are the new officers elected last evening: President, A. W. McCurdy; first vice-president, W. J. Sutton; second vice-president, E. A. Wallace; secretary, F. Napier Denison; treasurer, H. T. Nation; executive, C. H. Lugin, T. Kermode, H. Tiley, C. C. Pemberton, and A. H. Maynard.

The secretary's report showed that during the year 63 members were elected, making the total membership 155, as compared with 90 at the annual meeting last year. Three special illustrated lectures open to the public were held during the year and proved very popular, the aggregate attendance being 1,900. The lectures were "The House Fly," by Dr. Hewitt; "The Insects of British Columbia," by C. H. Lugin, and "Earthquakes," by F. Napier Denison. Owing to the rapid increase in membership steps are being taken by the society to secure a larger hall as a meeting place.

The president's report alluded to the movement on foot to enlarge the scope of the society's service in Victoria looking towards the establishment of an observatory of considerable magnitude in the immediate neighborhood. This he ascribed to Mr. Denison's lecture on Earthquakes. Zoological and Ornithological sections of the society have been formed. In conclusion the report said: "It must not be forgotten that one of the objects of the Natural History society, as stated in its constitution, is to act as an independent auxiliary to the provincial museum, the department of agriculture, the department of mines and the library of the legislative assembly, and it gives me pleasure to testify to the fact that all recommendations laid before the government by the society have been received with the greatest courtesy, and have been given satisfactory consideration."

—Vancouver Encampment, No. 1, of this city, will hold a specially interesting meeting this evening to welcome the grand patriarch of the province of B. C. E. G. Cavaisky, of Nanaimo, who intends to officially visit the encampment. Full attendance is requested as a number of addresses have been prepared by the encampment committee.

—A telephone switchboard with 320 lines, is to be installed in the Empress hotel, and through this local exchange every line in the city will be connected with the different rooms of the hotel. The installation will be complete in six weeks' time, and in connection with this exchange provision has been made for connecting the new wing of the hotel, which it is probable will be commenced next fall on the foundations already laid at the southeast corner of the structure.

—Court Vancouver, No. 5,755, A. O. F., held its usual bi-monthly meeting in the hall, Broad street, last evening, when a number of candidates were initiated and several applications for membership were received. During the evening members of Court Maple Leaf and Court Northern Light paid a fraternal visit and a pleasant social time was spent. Brothers F. Cairns, Lee, T. Smith, Melvil and J. H. Trace contributed songs and recitations. At the close of the programme refreshments were served.

—A coroner's jury yesterday afternoon returned a verdict of accidental death at the inquest held by Dr. Bapty to discover the cause of death of Oneas, the wife of the Indian named Morris. The woman was found dead beneath an overturned rig on the road to Saanich on Sunday morning. The death was the result of a drunken carousal by Indians on Saturday. They were supplied with liquor by Harris Matthews, a colored man, who was proprietor of a restaurant on Johnson street. Matthews was sentenced to four months' imprisonment with hard labor yesterday for the offence of supplying liquor to Indians.

ONE HUNDRED CARS FOR THE AUTO SHOW

Lieut.-Governor's Guard of Honor of Boy Scouts at Opening Ceremony

A triangular duel, the first example of this class of swordsmanship to be given in public here, is one item of the Friday night programme for the Automobile Dealers' Association show, under the auspices of the Victoria branch of the British and Foreign Seaman's Institute, to be held in the drill hall Thursday, Friday and Saturday of this week.

Half a dozen swordsmen, Major S. Booth, Capt. P. T. Stern and Lieut. R. P. Clark of the Fifth Regiment, C. G. A.; Lieut.-C. A. Bell, R. N., of H. M. S. Egeria, G. Sheldon Williams and W. Pomfrey will appear in bouts, with foils, duelling swords, light sabres, spee against sabre, Italian foil play and rapier and dagger.

The entertainment, like those of Thursday and Saturday nights, is but a side issue of the three-day event. Its main object is the displaying of the 1911 model automobiles, and the total value of these is swelling more than originally anticipated. The dealers, when the show was first announced, said they would be able to show $200,000 worth of machines, but now the value comes up to nearly another $100,000.

Thursday night the show opens with a speech by the Lieutenant-Governor of British Columbia, who will be attended by a guard of honor composed of the Victoria Boy Scouts. Notice has been issued to the brigade of scouts to assemble at 7.30 Thursday at the drill hall for the purpose of forming the guard of honor. The scouts will be taken from each troop in charge of a patrol leader or officer, and will report to the commissioner on arrival.

Bandmaster Rogers, of the Fifth Regiment, is charged with the musical programme, and his Fifth Regiment band is prepared to offer a series of concert for the five sessions of the show. Afternoon and evening, the visitors can obtain afternoon tea, and refreshments; between-times of coming to a definite and final opinion on the merits of the one hundred cars that are to be exhibited.

Everything that is made in the automobile factories of this continent, both Canadian and American, is included in the general display now being assembled beneath the roof of the drill hall. The merits of the Canadian article against the American in design, price and capabilities could not be better seen than under conditions as offered this week-end. The dealers have agreed that any demonstration which can be given regardless of moving the car along will be made. They have agreed that no car shown is to be propelled along the floor of the hall, but demonstrations—non active—of the engines, and information of its technical attractiveness, and maybe of its "honk-honk," will be given all inquirers at each auto depot in the show.

—Mr. Justice Martin yesterday set April 18 as the date for trial in the Hind Roife & Company, against the Admiralty Court of Parrist & Co. and ship Notre Dame D'Avor.

—On Monday evening the Victoria West Methodist League held their regular meeting under the missionary committee. Miss Elliott gave a very interesting address on "Deaconess Work," after which the Misses Robinson sang "Why Stand Ye Here Idle?"

—All members of Far West Lodge, No. 1, K. of P., are reminded that Friday evening, March 24, has been set apart as roll call night. Another feature during the evening, commencing at 8.30 o'clock will be a lecture given by Dr. C. J. Fagan on "Tuberculosis." All members who can be present are urged to attend and answer their names. Members of Victoria, No. 17, are invited.

—Before Judge Lampman this morning J. A. Alkman, solicitor for Alfred Deakin, who was yesterday tried and found guilty of shooting a cow at Port Renfrew, applied for a stated case to go to the Court of Appeal. The application was granted and bail allowed on two sureties of $500 each, which were immediately forthcoming. The ground of the appeal will be that a witness named Elliston refused to give evidence on oath.

—The funeral of the late Mrs. Sarah Celia Watson took place from the B. C. Funeral Furnishing Company's parlors yesterday afternoon at 2.30 o'clock. Rev. Joseph McCoy conducted the services. The pallbearers were: E. O. Weston, G. H. Tomlinson, W. Wyles, G. W. York, Joseph York and W. H. Wilkerson. The hymns "Jesus Lover of My Soul" and "Nearer My God to Thee" were sung in the chapel. Mr. Gilles presided at the organ.

—A charge of speeding against B. S. Helsterman was withdrawn because Mr. Helsterman, since the date of the alleged offence, has gone to England and had no knowledge before departure of the service of the summons, which did not take place until after he left Victoria. F. B. Pemberton pleaded not guilty through his solicitor, D. S. Brandon, to a charge of speeding, and the case was remanded till Thursday.

—H. P. Shropshire, of the International Correspondence Schools of Scranton, will address another meeting of I. C. S. students in the Sir William Wallace hall on Thursday at 8.30 p. m. These meetings are proving quite interesting, and a large attendance of the school's many students in this city is anticipated. There have already been several such meetings to accommodate the large number of students in Victoria. The subject discussed will be one of general interest to the students.

EDDIE BEGINS TO WEED OUT PLAYERS

Five New Ball Players Arrive—Rooster Now Totals Thirteen

Eddie Householder has begun his pruning and the first of the players to "get the axe" were pitchers Davis and Baldwin. Both of these are Californians and one of them, Davis, played with San Jose last year. Both have pretty good records, but Householder thinks he has better material on hand and as the number of the team must be lowered to 16 by June 1, he has no time to waste.

The Royal Athletic baseball park is now the only resort for the fans who have a little time to spare in the morning or the afternoon. Yesterday there were quite a number of them on the grounds, sizing up the men.

The only new men in yesterday's practice were three independent baseballers, who came over here on their own hook, Baker and Hill from Cottage City, New Orleans, and Sparks from Vancouver. From the class of play they put up on their first day out they evidently think Victoria is an easy thing.

The boys went through their steps

WARD

One of the Islanders Team.

In such snappy, gingery way that the fans were obliged to applaud in a very vigorous manner on several occasions. Narveson is attracting attention by his playing in outfield, while Davis is doing pretty well on third. "Clem" got down to the grounds in better style and "Alny," otherwise Saxe, certainly shapes up like a pitcher. He has great speed and, what is almost as important, a good slow ball. It floats up to the plate with all its seams showing and when it gets up to the plate it keeps on floating into the catcher's glove.

Just after the boys had laid off and were changing their clothes a fresh squad of ball players walked on to the field. These were the latest arrivals, who had just come off the boat. There was Con. Starkell, another husky twirler, built after the style of "Tiny". Starkell played for Calgary in the Twelfth league and is said to be a very useful slush artist. Then there was Hemenway, who is going to give Dashway a run for the place behind the bat. Hemenway caught for Seattle in the Northwestern league last year. Next comes Harry Rush, also from Seattle. Rush is a pitcher and a good one, too. He did not play ball last year owing to illness, but two years ago he was Seattle's star twirler. Ten Million, perhaps the most talked of player Victoria has signed on, was also among the arrivals. Million played for the University of Washington last year and made quite a sensation in the country round about by his clever outfielding. He is the man whom St. Louis and Cincinnati were after and about whom such beautiful fairy-tales were invented. Last but not least comes McGuire, also from the University of Washington. McGuire is an infielder. This brings the roster up to 13 ball players, who have been signed on, and three who have not, so that the grounds will present quite an enlivening picture from now on.

The fans must not confuse the Davis who has been let out with Ben Davis, the outfielder.

MAY PICK TEAM TO REPRESENT VICTORIA

Matter Will Be Discussed at Annual Meeting—Boys Out Practicing

It is quite likely that Victoria will have a representative lacrosse team independent of the senior city leagues this year. Although baseball is attracting a great deal of attention, some of the local sportsmen still persist that lacrosse is the best summer game and every effort is being made to make this season a banner one for the manipulators of the gutted sticks.

There will be as usual a senior league consisting of teams from the North Ward, Victoria West and Cloverdale clubs; an intermediate league with the Wards, Wests and Oak Bays as the competitors and a junior league, with as yet an undetermined number of entries. Last year there were only two teams in this league, the Wards and the Wests. When Victoria clashed with Vancouver, New Westminster or any other town a team was chosen from the best men in the senior league. This was found rather unsatisfactory, however, as players were not used to playing with one another and felt out of place.

If the idea mentioned above, which is suggested by several prominent lacrosse men in the city, is followed out, Victoria will go right after the annual provincial championship, and if the boys stick together and practice constantly there is no reason why they should not win out. For the last few years Victoria has not been taken seriously by the mainland towns in the matter of lacrosse, but the local young fellows who take part in the game have been improving year by year and are very apt to spring a surprise on the lacrosse fiends across the water this season.

The Wards were out practicing last Sunday and will be out now every Sunday morning providing the weather permits. Most of the players who were on the team last year, when it won the Claxton cup, emblematic of the city championship, will be back in their old places once more. Johnson, Frank Sweeney, Joe Dakers, Noel Kroeger, Morris, Sid Humber, McCarter and Ed. Brynjolfson, all will be there, and in addition several younger players, Cyril Baker, McGregor, Hodgson, Martin and others have signified their intention of trying for a place on the team.

The Wests and Cloverdale have not been practicing as yet, but it will not be long now before they are in readiness to wrest the championship honors from the Wards. Both of these teams have almost the same line-up as last year.

The Oak Bay intermediates have been out with their sticks for some time. Last Sunday they did not turn out as the grounds are being re-seeded in preparation for the lacrosse season. The Oak Bays expect to put a team on to the field this year that will give any of the others an extremely hard run to secure first place.

Whether or not Victoria will have a representative lacrosse team independent of the other teams will be decided at the meeting of the lacrosse association to be held on March 28, in the Eagles' hall.

AMATEURS MAY NOT PLAY AGAINST PROS.

B. C. A. A. U. Threatenes Suspension to Players Unless No Gate Receipts Are Taken

The B. C. A. A. U. has issued its ultimatum. The amateurs will not be allowed to play against the professionals except in a strictly exhibition affair with no gate receipts taken. This, of course, is only what could be expected as the union is not likely to make an exception in favor of the baseball players after having dealt so strictly with the footballers.

The amateur officials have announced that if the game took place and gate receipts were taken, all the local boys would be professionalized, and in the case of those already blacklisted for playing in the old Island football league series it would lengthen their term of suspension considerably.

This being the case the chances of the fans seeing any of the senior amateur teams try out their strength against the professionals are very small as Wattelet is not likely to waste his time playing for nothing when money can be got by playing with other teams. However, if the pros happen to have a Saturday afternoon free sometime after the coming Saturday, it may even yet be arranged.

SPORT NOTES

Altogether there will be about 400 entries in the Bench show this year. Over 40 entries have been received from Vancouver and a large number are expected from other coast towns to-day, the last day for the mailing of entries.

There was a fairly good attendance at the Hunt club run held on Saturday afternoon. The run started from the home of Mrs. Edgerson, where refreshments were served. The course was laid through the country adjacent to Mt. Toimie. About twenty gentlemen and four ladies, Miss Pooley, Mrs. Thomas, Mrs. Butler and Miss Street, took part in the chase. The sport of cross-country riding is not confined to the Hunt club, however, as not a few young fellows have secured horses and indulged in it on every possible occasion.

The Bays have not been able to obtain a new secretary, as yet, and by the way things are going, it does not seem as if Vince Grey would ever be able to drop the work. This is perhaps a good thing for the Bays, as it is a bad time of the year to initiate a new man into the onerous duties of secretary of a club like the J. B. A. A. However, Messrs. Hugh Kennedy, Dan O'Sullivan and Thomas have been appointed to choose the new man and so far they have received 30 applications, none of which seem suitable.

The summer boating season is fast approaching and before long the arm and the harbor will be racy with boats, canoes and launches. The J. B. A. A. carsmen have already appeared and a few of them have been out in the shells taking a pull up and down the arm.

Henry Bahn, wrestler, known as "Samson," has left the hospital at Chicago, having recovered from injuries sustained when Champion Frank Gotch tossed him over his head in a recent bout.

Charging that Frank Gotch had purposely avoided him, and would give him no chance to wrestle for the championship, George Hackenschmidt announced at New York that he would sail for Europe March 28.

The first incandescent electric light fixtures were made of thread dipped in kerosene and tar and carbonized at a high temperature.

SPLENDID FENCING DISPLAY ARRANGED

Local Gentlemen to Take Part—Will Meet Vancouver Swordsmen

On Friday night one of the most unique and interesting exhibitions ever seen in the city of Victoria will be staged at the drill hall. Several well known local gentlemen have consented to give a fencing display, which, as may be seen by glancing through the programme, is of a varied character.

Those who will assist in the various events on the programme, which, by the way, is very elaborate, are, up to the present: Major Booth, Capt. F. T. Stern, Lieut. R. P. Clark, Fifth Regiment, C. G. A.; Lieut. C. A. Bell, R. N.; Messrs. G. Sheldon-Williams, W. Pumphrey, O. Bjornfelt and F. L. Pearce.

Richard West is arranging the programme which will be on similar lines to that arranged for the "Cafe Chantant," which took place in November, and also for the Boy Scouts' entertainment, only that more amateurs will take part, thus showing what the result of a few months' training will do for the average man in swordsmanship generally.

The items will comprise: The salute (as formulated by L'Academie d'Armes de Paris); foil fencing, a fencing lesson; duelling sword, sabre vs. epee-de-combat; Italian sabre play, rapier and dagger play of the 16th century, and a triangular duel, in which a touch on the body alone will place the fencer "hors de combat."

The programme will be on sale at the drill hall and will be quite a souvenir. Further details will be announced later.

On Saturday night an epee de combat or duelling sword competition will take place, in which the winner will receive a prize. Lieut. Col. Currie has consented to act as director of assault.

KELLAR

It is possible that somewhere about the middle of April another interesting exhibition will be given in aid of a deserving charity, and those who are interested in such events will be able to procure another "programme de luxe," but previous to this a duelling sword match will take place between the Vancouver and Victoria epee teams, probably five "epicists" a side.

Then comes the second annual fencing competition for the amateur championship of British Columbia, with foil fencing, duelling sword and sabre.

It is pointed out for information that each bout on Friday night is not of a competitive nature, and will last about five minutes each. On Saturday night one touch anywhere on the body counts against the fencer.

Philadelphia, March 21.—Kid McCoy realized to-day that his pugilistic days are over. Although stacked up against a preliminary fighter in Jack Fitzgerald, in a six round bout last night at Philadelphia, the best McCoy could do was to get a draw. The fighters clinched almost continuously and were binned repeatedly.

LOCAL BALL TEAM IS GIVEN A NAME

Victoria Northwestern Leaguers Are Called Islanders—Other Suggestions

Good luck to the "Islanders!" After much discussion the judges have decided that the most suitable name for Victoria's professional baseball team is the Islanders. The lucky winner of the season pass is Miss Irene M. Burnes, of Esquimalt.

It seems rather a shame that all the scrappy, romantic or flowery suggestions should have been thrown out in favor of such a common prosaic one as the Islanders, but it was the unanimous opinion of the judges that nothing could be more suitable than the name accepted as the local line in the only Island team in the league. It is almost a certainty that the mainlanders would have called the boys "Islanders" in any case.

In the course of the competition for the pass some very curious names were suggested by the ladies. A few of the most comical and ingenious have already been mentioned, but as Wattelet says "the worst is yet to come."

One lady is sure that the most applicable name is the "Watt House Clams," combining as it does the names of the two men who have the managing of the team. She adds that any one of the following terms might be put in the place of the word Clams: Kids, Turtles, Hawks, Songhees or Swans. This privilege would come in very handy when the boys loosen up a little.

Several other ladies suggested the name Islanders, but as Miss Burnes was the first to get hers in, she was awarded the prize. One of the fair sex says that the term Islanders was very good because it rhymes with Highlanders; and she says: "If the Victoria boys play ball in the same way as the Highlanders do the rag is over." Very much to the point, but the boys are tired of having Chase and his team dinned into their ears. They are none of them personally acquainted with the gentleman, and would rather not have him put up as a model, whose example is to be followed in everything.

ABOUT BASEBALL

A movement is on foot in Nanaimo to organize a baseball league which will comprise teams from Nanaimo, Ladysmith, Chemainus, Duncan and Cumberland. Local fans may not know it, but in the last few years more interest has been taken in the game in the northern part of the Island than has been down here. For several years Cumberland, Comox, Courtenay and Union Bay have had teams and the competition between them is always very keen. There are some tidy ball players in that country, too.

Hughie Jennings has had an operation performed on his tongue, which is now said to be in the pink of condition.

BOOKER WASHINGTON ASSAULTED

New York, March 21.—Admitting that he mistook Booker T. Washington, the foremost negro educator in the United States, for a "peeping Tom," and that he gave him a good beating, Albert Ulrich, a carpenter, was arraigned in the West Side police court yesterday on the charge of assault. Ulrich testified that he saw Washington loitering about the hallway of his home and claimed that the educator spoke disrespectfully to Mrs. Ulrich. Washington said that he had gone to an address at 113 6th street to find D. C. Smith, auditor of Tuskegee Institute, who was visiting his cousin. He said that when Ulrich attacked him he ran because the carpenter was a much larger man. "I did not recall the name of the family where Smith was visiting," said the educator, "and I was not sure of the address. I was merely looking at the names on the letter boxes when Ulrich assaulted me." Washington's scalp was cut in two places, his right ear was split and his face badly bruised. Washington denied speaking to Mrs. Ulrich.

Ulrich was held in $500 bail for further examination to-day.

REBELS WILL NOT LAY DOWN ARMS

Mexican Leader is Ready to Receive Peace Proposals
From Diaz

El Paso, Texas, March 21.—An unarmed truce will be established in northern Mexico as soon as developments in Mexico City warrant, and Francisco Madero, the revolutionary president, will establish himself at a point in the field to be considered neutral ground, there to receive any peace proposals which may come as a result of the return to the Mexican republic of Senor Limantour, who recently in New York had conferences with the insurrecto leaders.

This was established yesterday in messages brought by courier from Madero, who is within 150 miles south of here in camp with 1,000 of his insurrectos. It is the first word coming direct from Madero since the peace negotiations.

The contents of Madero's message to the revolutionary junta here were not made public, but the term "as soon as developments in Mexico City warrant" was explained as meaning that Madero first would insist upon important stipulations before peace arrangements would be entered into. The peace arrangements, it was said, are as follows:

President Diaz must step aside and must relinquish all the political power which might result in his return to office.

A new election for president must be called at once, with a free ballot for every male citizen of age.

The promises for reforms in the land laws and in the administration of the states by popular vote instead of by federal control must be under such conditions that they cannot be ignored after peace has been declared.

The insurrectos will not lay down their arms, but will maintain an armed truce until the reforms are so far advanced that they cannot be revoked.

Whether Senor Limantour would be acceptable to Madero as "provisional president," pending negotiations, is not known.

Senor Gonzales Garcia, the insurrecto secretary of state, who carries on communication with Washington, said yesterday:

"Limantour would not be entirely acceptable to us. We look upon him as the chief of the Diaz coterie. We would not under and circumstances take his word and lay down our arms."

"As provisional president he would simply take the instructions of Diaz." A telegram from Gustavo Madero, the insurrecto financial agent in New York, was received, stating:

"Have had several conferences with Limantour. He has promised a full change of politics in Mexico."

Limantour's Statement.

Mexico City, March 21.—With a warning to all Mexicans that with every day the rebellion continues, the danger of international complications increases, a plea to rally to the support of General Diaz, and a declaration that the government never can enter into peace negotiations with individuals in arms, Finance Minister Limantour has entered upon the task of pacification.

Senor Limantour said the statements that he was the bearer of conditions for the establishment of peace, placed in his hands by the Maderos in New York, was an absurdity.

"With bad grace could I be the bearer of such a paper, when publicly I have declared that the government could never enter into negotiations with individuals in arms. A government should do that which a reasonable public opinion demands, but it should not, and cannot, under pain of extinguishing itself, accede to the armed pressure of misguided sons of the country. They must lay down their arms if they wish to bring about the reforms that may be necessary."

Of the insurrection itself, Senor Limantour had nothing to add, he said, to what he has previously asserted, that it constitutes treason.

In reply to a suggestion that great results were expected to follow his return to Mexico, he said:

"It is a heavy burden that public opinion would place upon my shoulders, and no man can carry it without the co-operation of all good Mexicans. I further emphasize, however, that such an effort is demanded of me, when the direction of the policy of our government is in the hands of no less a man than the illustrious statesman who has formed the country, who has developed it, and has given it a high place among the nations."

"We must then place our confidence in the expert helmsman who in the past has met the greatest dangers and lend him all the aid of which we are capable, each in his respective sphere of action doing all possible to the end that harmony may reign again among all Mexicans for the removal to a greater distance of danger from without as well as for the searching close at hand for a method of implanting the reforms, more or less urgent, required by the present political situation."

"There was published," it was suggested, "a dispatch from New York in which Gustav Madero said you have returned to Mexico to take charge temporarily of the presidency of the republic."

"Another absurdity," said Senor Limantour. "Already in times past when some of my friends have besought me to become a candidate for the vice-presidency, I have declared my firm resolution not to accept any position in the militant politics of my country, being disposed to lend my services to the administrative branch as long as they might be considered useful by the majority of my fellow countrymen. Since then the times have only served to confirm and strengthen my determination."

Twenty-one Deaths.

Hololulu, March 21.—The cholera outbreak here is officially declared to be ended, but quarantine and other precautionary measures will be continued until the sanitary work for which the legislature appropriated $50,000 is completed. There were 27 cases of cholera in the present outbreak, of which 21 proved fatal.

THEOSOPHICAL LECTURES.

Those interested in advanced thought are much interested in a series of free lectures on theosophy, by a lecturer of the Theosophical Society, who is visiting Victoria. J. Jinarajadasa, of Ceylon, is a graduate of the University of Cambridge, and is possessed of ability of the highest intellectual type. He is a pleasing speaker, learned but not pedantic, making his appeal not to credulity or blind faith, but to the intellect, to the reason, to the keenest common-sense.

Mr. Jinarajadasa refused to be called the messenger of a new religion; his message is theosophy—the ancient wisdom which underlies all the religions of the world, he says. Theosophy, he says, is the most powerful integrating factor in modern life; it is the point where true science and true religion meet and are reconciled. The aim of theosophy is the redemption of the human race from the bondage of materialism and selfish desires. This aim it seeks to accomplish by striving to spiritualize the thought of the time by teaching through the medium of religion, art, science and philosophy, these two great facts of nature—the brotherhood of man and the fatherhood of God.

The lectures are being held in the Friends' hall, Courtenay street, near Douglas. On Sunday evening Mr. Jinarajadasa spoke on "The Roads to God," and last night he addressed a good-sized audience on "The Invisible Worlds in Which We Live," with illustrated views. His future lectures are:

Tuesday, March 21—"The Memory of Past Lives."

Wednesday, March 22—"Public Question Meeting."

Thursday, March 23—"Man in Life and Death."

Sunday, March 26—"Theosophy in the Church."

Monday, March 27—"The Inner Teaching of Christianity."

Lectures at 8.15 p.m. Collection to defray expenses.

This afternoon Mr. Jinarajadasa speaks to the members of the Alexandra Club on Wagner's "Ring."

ALASKAN COAL LAND CASES.

Seattle, Wash., March 21.—That the successful prosecution of the men under indictment, charged with conspiring to defraud the government of Alaska coal lands, means the ultimate cancellation of 65 per cent. of the Alaska coal claims, was the statement made by Special Agent A. Christensen, of the department of the interior, who has just returned from Detroit.

Of 1,000 locations filed, 640 claims are embraced in the twenty-eight indictments returned by federal grand juries in Tacoma, Spokane, Chicago and Detroit.

The Munday and Seigley cases, which will be tried here next week, will be the first indictments returned to the commission for trial, and the outcome will be weighed with a great deal of interest. The department is naturally anxious to get these cases settled, so that the claim-

Tea Time Talks Tea Spoils with Age

No tea is fit to drink after it is two years old. That is the age limit of tea quality and benefit. The best tea is the freshest.

"Salada" Tea owes much of its world-wide reputation to its sale fresh from the plantation. The leaves are fresh picked every week the year round; then dried, sorted and packed in air-tight lead packages. Every five weeks a new picking of "Salada" comes fresh from plantation to purchaser.

Bulk teas, carried year after year, lose their freshness.

HAVE C. P. R. BOUGHT THE OAK BAY HOTEL?

Real Estate Men Are Agitated
With Delight at the Prospect

"How long, oh Lord, how long," is no longer the question that is agitating the minds of the real estate men of Victoria in regard to the longevity of the boom. The question that is today defying them in their combined quest for inside information is: Have the C. P. R. purchased the site of the Oak Bay hotel?

For several days the rumor that the great railway corporation had taken over the site has been current about town. In the course of its peregrinations it has taken on a multiplicity of phases and colors. Everyone to whom the news has filtered has clothed it in a robe the color of which best accords with his interests and desires. But throughout the whole gamut of distorted stories of probabilities that are not even possibilities the kernel is always the same—that the company has at least purchased the site.

That they have done so, while not an ascertained fact, is at least a warrantable assumption. The name of the C. P. R. has been associated with the Oak Bay hotel for some considerable time in the minds of the wise ones whose functions in life is to foretell the commercial happenings of the future, and the announcement of the company proving the prophesy of these "speculative" souls will not come as any great surprise.

Many of the real estate men in the city are largely interested in the area surrounding the Oak Bay Hotel, and to suggest that they are agitated over the prospect of the company coming in with a summer hotel scheme is to put their paroxysms of pleasurable anticipations in the mildest possible terms. A summer hotel of the type that the company would erect there would not only be an ornament to the district and a relief to the hotel congestion of the city, but it would be a municipal asset as well. The site of the present hotel is one of the most admirable, and it is possible upon viewing it to conjure up visions of the enhanced beauty of the scene when centralized upon a palatial structure of architectural eminence such as the C. P. R. might be banked upon to erect.

During the past week a brisk business has been done in the residential sections of the city. The demand for home lots is still very great and those firms catering to this class of investor have had their hands full. Moore & Johnston have put through a number of deals of this class involving properties in the north end of the city. In the Hollywood district, in which they are also interested, they have sold several lots as home sites. Swinerton & Musgrave also report steady progress in the sale of their subdivisions. During the week they sold a number of residential lots at Willows Beach and also at Westwood Farm. At the latter place they also sold ten and a half acres in a lump for $4,000. Grant & Lineham and the other firms operating subdivisions or areas on the route of the tramway company to Saanich also report good business.

Currie & Power during the past week disposed of three lots in the Golf Links Park; two lots on Obed avenue and Orilla street; two lots on Greenwood street off Lampson street; one lot on Hulton street; one lot on Empress avenue; one lot on Colville road, Victoria West; two lots on Quadra street, near King's road, and one lot on Aberdeen street, Esquimalt.

J. O. Stinson's sales include three 40-foot lots in Chapman street for $2,500; one lot on Mackenzie avenue for $1,250; a lot on Oscar street for $1,450; three lots at the corner of Oscar street and Chester avenue for $4,550; five lots on Fourth street for $1,190; four lots on King's road for $2,000; and one lot on Mount Tomin car line for $400.

Taken all over the market is in a steady and healthy condition.

BUILDING UP A UNITED CANADA

No Diversity of Interest in Dominion, Declares Hon.
Frank Oliver

Montreal, March 21.—"I have no patience with the people who hold that there is a diversity of interest between one class in Canada and another," declared Hon. Frank Oliver, speaking before the Canadian Club yesterday on "The Place of the Northwest in Canada."

"We are occupying a country, it is not as large as Europe, at least as large as western Europe, which is from many standpoints the civilized world of today, which holds the world in the hollow of its hand."

"This is an age of combinations, of mergers, of vast aggregations of capital. The day of the small country is gone. Prince Edward Island and the Maritime Provinces would not like to be a separate country as they once had been, and the prairie provinces do not want to be a separate nationality. We realize the necessity of building up a united Canada."

"It is only by recognizing to the full the rights and interests of all sections of the community that we can expect to achieve the ultimate destiny of what we hope to be, one of the greatest countries in the world, a leader in civilization and everything that makes for civilization in the British Empire."

Mr. Oliver did not mention reciprocity during his speech, but confined his attention to the argument that what tended towards the success of the of Canada.

BILLION DOLLARS FROM THE STATES

Value of Belongings of Farmers Who Have Crossed Border in Nine Years

Arthur Stringer, who is recognized as one of the best authorities on Canadian subjects, has an article in the current number of Hampton's Magazine, which is very significant at this period, pending the convening of Congress to take up again the matter of reciprocity with that country. In the article, Mr. Stringer tells how an Idaho farmer walked into the office of the commissioner of immigration at Winnipeg a year ago, saying that he was a stranger in that section, and turning over to the commissioner his old wallet, containing $25,000, while he went to get a land claim located. The commissioner accepted the money as merely an incident of the day's work, for that commissioner had come to know certain things. As Mr. Stringer says:

"He knew, for instance, that more than one hundred and twelve thousand figures strangely similar to the one who stood before him had in one summer trekked silently across the international boundary into Canada. He knew that each man had brought with him, on the average, live stock and cash and worldly goods to the amount of over three thousand dollars. He knew that in that same summer, on one train crossing into Canada at North Portal, settlers from the western states carried in with them two hundred and twenty-five thousand dollars in actual cash."

"He was also not ignorant of the fact that in this same city of Winnipeg where he stood, two hundred of the larger business houses were paying their hands with money that came out of an American pocketbook. It did not greatly disturb him, for he knew that Winnipeg could take care of its own. He had seen it emerge, thirty years ago, from a little Red River fur post to a city of two hundred thousand, an asphalt paved, sky scraped, many parked and boulevarded metropolis with twenty-three chartered banks, a municipal electric power plant with a capacity of 60,000 horsepower, municipal quarries, and even a municipal asphalt manufactory."

"He had seen it grow into the largest wheat market in the world (even in 1909 it had 'inspected' over eighty-eight million bushels), and such being the case, he regarded it as only natural that this same city had, during that same summer, shipped six hundred steam ploughs into a single colony of Canadianized American farmers, to be used in breaking the virgin prairie. Each one of those ploughs was able to break one thousand five hundred acres of land, and that meant nine hundred thousand acres for the lot. And from that land, allowing for the low average of even twenty bushels to the acre, would spring eighteen million bushels of wheat—not ordinary wheat, but wheat which grades highest at the markets and sells quickest at the mills, No. 1 Canadian Hard."

"He also knew that over five hundred thousand American farmers had crossed the border during the last nine years, and that month by month the movement was spreading and gathering momentum. He knew that they carried with them, all told, belongings which approached dangerously close to the billion dollar mark, and that this depletion of the American west did not take count of money invested from the Land of the Free in Canadian stocks and bonds."

"He knew many other things, for it was his business to do so. He knew why those Americans were coming into Canada, and he knew the nature of the country into which they were coming, the possible wheat belt of what the rest of America had been wont to regard as 'The Frozen Zone,' aggregated an area of one hundred and eighty million acres. Of that great area only a little over six million acres are now actually under cultivation. The great remainder lies either virgin prairie hungering for the ploughshare, or fertile coulees and valley lands awaiting the advent of man."

"Had any of his new-found American friends doubted this, he could have turned to his map and pointed out to them the Mackenzie Basin alone, rolling from Great Slave Lake right up to the Arctic Ocean. He could have shown that this vast watershed, second only in magnitude to that of the Mississippi itself, was made up of one million, one hundred and twenty thousand square miles, constituting a country about nine times the size of England and Ireland."

"This is what the Canadian Senate committee reported, after scientific examination:

"Within the scope of the committee's inquiry there is a possible area of 650,000 square miles fitted for the growth of potatoes, 407,000 square miles suitable for barley, and 516,000 square miles suitable for wheat."

There is a pastoral area of 860,000 square miles, 26,000 of which is open prairie with occasional groves, the remainder being more or less wooded."

THE APRIL OUTING.

The April Outing is a fishing number, both inspirational and practical. For the man who is eager to get out with his rod it will help to pass away the time before the season opens. Samuel G. Camp gives practical advice on "How to Fish a Trout Stream." George M. Johnson covers possibilities of the small stream, in "Fishing the Binacles"; "The Stream That Always Laughs," by N. C. Adossides, is an alluring account of the author's experiences in a little-known region in North Carolina. The last two articles are illustrated with photographs and there are also four full-page photographs that show "When the Trout Are Rising."

"Cruising With the Yachans," by Charles Wellington Furlong, describes Mr. Furlong's recent exploring trip in Tierra del Fuego.

"A Lost Paradise," by Charles Askins, is a delightful picture of old-time Southern hospitality. Dillon Wallace continues his journey, "Saddle and Camp in the Rockies," and Mrs. Helen Dodd gives us the benefit of her experiences in "Garden and Field at Twin-Flower." "Inoculating Ed" is an inspiration to campers, and "The White Nightmare" is another nature story by F. St. Mars, with illustrations by Charles Livingston Bull. David Buffum writes authoritatively of "Draft Horses in America." "Jack Otto, Hero," is a true story of a man's courage. Much practical information is contained in "Motor Car's Spark of Life" and "New Ideas for Motor Boatmen."

Fiction contains a new serial by Hui-bor Footner, "Bad Medicine"; and another western story by Charles Alden Seltzer, entitled "The Thief at Church Bar." Then there are a lot of short stories under the head of "A Mixed Bag" that you will pass on to your friends around the camp-fire.

No out-of-door man can afford to miss the articles in the April Outing.

ALL YOUR STOMACH TROUBLE VANISHES

Indigestion, Gas, Heartburn and Dyspepsia Go and You Will Feel Fine in Five Minutes

Every year regularly more than a million stomach sufferers in the United States, England and Canada take Pape's Diapiesin, and realize not only immediate, but lasting relief.

This harmless preparation will digest anything you eat and overcome a sour, gassy or out-of-order stomach five minutes afterwards.

If your meals don't sit comfortably, or what you eat lies like a lump of lead in your stomach, or if you have heartburn, that is a sign of indigestion. Get from your Pharmacist a 50 cent case of Pape's Diapiesin and take a dose just as soon as you can. There will be no sour risings, no belching of undigested food mixed with acid, no stomach gas or heartburn, fullness or heavy feeling in the stomach, Nausea, Debilitating Headaches, Dizziness or Intestinal griping. This will all go, and, besides, there will be no sour food left over in the stomach to poison your breath with nauseous odors.

Pape's Diapiesin is a certain cure for out-of-order stomach, because it takes hold of your food and digests it just the same as if your stomach wasn't there.

Relief in five minutes from all stomach misery is waiting for you at any drug store.

These large 50 cent cases contain more than sufficient to thoroughly cure almost any case of Dyspepsia, Indigestion or any other stomach disorder.

The use of the metric system of weights and measures has been made obligatory in Belgium by the government.

EMINENT SCIENTIST.

Discoverer of Finger-Print Identification Passes Away.

The death occurred a few days ago of Sir Francis Galton, the eminent anthropologist and eugenicist, at Grayshott Lodge, Haslemere, in his eighty-ninth year. He received his knighthood only last year.

Explorer, naturalist, and man of letters, Sir Francis won a foremost place among the thinkers of the Victorian age. On his father's side he was of ancient Quaker stock; by his mother he belonged to the Darwins—Dr. Erasmus Darwin being his grandfather. Charles Darwin and he were cousins and lifelong friends.

On the death of his father, in 1844, the student of twenty-two found himself with a fortune sufficient to render him independent. He gave up his medical studies, and determined to strike out into the unknown lands. In 1846 he voyaged up the Nile as far as Khartoum, of which at that time almost nothing was known. It was a whole generation before the Mahdi had been heard of.

In 1850, when the news reached England of Livingstone's discovery of Lake Ngami, in Central Africa, Galton was fired with the ambition to explore that then almost unknown region. Landing at Wadisey Bay he surveyed the vast, arid, rainless territory. Damaraland, now the prized possession of Germany, Galton was probably the first European ever seen far in the interior. He wrote most entertainingly of its curious Negro, Bantu, and Hottentot peoples.

For this work the Royal Geographical Society awarded him its gold medal, and made him a member of the council, on which he served for nearly forty years.

His name will always be remembered as the originator of the doctrine of eugenics, or natural inheritance. "Hereditary Genius," published in 1869, at once placed Dr. Galton in the first rank of sociologists. There he was to enunciate the famous "Law of Ancestral Heredity."

He supposed that every ancestor of any particular individual contributed a quota to the heritable qualities of the individual, and he went on to assert that the average amount of resemblance between an individual and any particular ancestor was capable of expression.

These studies have led to most important results. The subject has been taken up by Professor Karl Pearson and others; systematic measurements have been made of human beings; a special scheme of statistics has been elaborated to deal with the detail of resemblances; and the net result arrived at, that mental as well as bodily characters are inherited.

The next consideration was "those agencies under human control that may improve or impair the racial qualities of future generations, physically and mentally." This study Dr. Galton named "Eugenics," and for its promotion he established at his own cost the Francis Galton Research Fellowship at the University of London.

Dr. Galton also had not a little to do with the adoption of the finger-print detective system. As far back as 1859 Sir W. Herschel, the present baronet, discovered the persistency throughout life of the small ridges found on the bulbs of the fingers, and that no two finger-prints were ever found alike. Dr. Galton, among his anthropological studies, came upon this discovery, and in 1892 published a work, entitled "Finger Prints," and two years later his "Finger Print Directory"—in which the various types of prints were classified.

Herschel, who was in the Bengal civil service, had adopted the finger prints as a means of identification, and Dr. Galton secured its adoption in London by Sir E. R. Henry, commissioner of police. It has been so successful as to supersede entirely in many places M. Bertillon's system, which relied on the measurements of the head and limbs. The criminal classes are now aware that once their finger-prints have been registered there is no evasion of identity. Dr. Galton was able to demonstrate conclusively that the chances against the impressions made by two different fingers resembling each other were one to 64,000,000,000.

The time used is Pacific Standard, for the 120th Meridian, west. It is counted from 0 to 24 hours, from midnight to midnight. The figures for height serve to distinguish high water from low water. The height is in feet and tenths of a foot, above the average level of the lowest low water in each month of the year. This level is half a foot lower than the datum to which the soundings on the Admiralty chart of Victoria harbor are reduced.

dians was important to all. If the people of Victoria considered it was not good for them they would vote against it. If they judged it as a man would judge a bargain with his neighbor, and that was what it was, they would support it. That was all it was, an agreement to facilitate trade, to remove obstacles hindering the freedom of trade between two contiguous countries. Speaking to that audience he was addressing numbers of the consuming public and the question they had to consider was: Is the removal or reduction of duty on a large list of necessities desirable or is it not?

"Take potatoes, for instance. Was it a good thing to pay an extra twenty cents a bushel on potatoes? Would its removal do the consumer any good? (An elector—"It certainly would.") That was pretty high protection, especially when it was considered what an enormous quantity had to be imported. Only a few days ago an Ottawa lumberman with Fraser river interests had told him that he was bringing potatoes three thousand miles from Prince Edward Island to supply his camps. On cattle, sheep, lambs, poultry, there was a duty of twenty-five per cent ad valorem, and these were now to be free. (Hear, hear.) This province did not supply one-half of the farm produce according to the budget statement of the provincial finance minister. Mr. Price Ellison had stated that we import $14,500,000 worth of farm produce, while the province produced $14,500,000. This was an extraordinary state of affairs. Most of the imports were from the east, but then on these the consumer had to pay the transportation charges, which pretty well evened up with the duty on the American products. Oats and grain carried a duty of ten cents a bushel, which would be wiped out, and hay, paying $2 a ton would be free.

Reductions of Duty.

In addition to the articles on which the duty was removed, which must reduce the cost of living, there were large reductions in duty on food products among them three-quarters of a cent a pound on bacon and hams, fifteen per cent on beef salted, seven per cent on pork salted, six per cent on other meats, seven and a half per cent on canned meats and poultry, and ten cents a barrel on flour. Going into the States there would be greater reductions and our producers would have that market. There should be just one opinion among consumers, that large body of the populace, regarding the reciprocity agreement; some producers might hold a different view.

It had been claimed that the effect would be to injure our fruit growers. There were different views on that point. Mr. Burrell said that reciprocity was a smashing blow at the industry. Maxwell Smith took the very opposite view. While there was an idea that the fruit industry would be injured this was doubtful to his mind, and he could not help thinking that if our growers can offer fruit as good as or better than their competitors, they could easily meet the competition and get an even higher price for their superior products.

Over the line fruit lands cost from $100 to $150, an acre more than it did on this side and one natural result of reciprocity would be that the American fruit grower would say himself that if he could get cheaper land and grow better fruit for the New York market he would cross the line. The wheat growers further east were doing the same thing. "I believe the removal of the duty on fruit will be to enhance the value of the fruit lands of the Okanagan and probably those around Victoria," declared Mr. Templeman.

Benefits Oil Industry.

Speaking of the effect on the whole oil industry, now being conducted by one of the most prosperous companies on the Pacific coast, the minister said the duty on oil was reduced by eight cents a gallon going into the States. He had that day been informed by a member of the company that the removal of the American duty on whale oil would be a great thing for the industry. That was one Victoria interest which stood to make a lot of money as a result of reciprocity.

Victoria lumbermen had already spoken as to the good effect of their industry. American lumber had been coming into Canada for years and it had never been possible to put a duty on rough lumber. The American duty of $2 had been reduced to $1.25 and now was wiped out, so that Canadian lumbermen would be able to compete with American lumber in the United States market. On shingles the reduction was from 50 cents to 30 cents a thousand; pity it was not free, Canada being the greatest producer.

Mr. Templeman said he would have liked to see free trade in coal but this only illustrated the great difficulty of framing a tariff to apply to all parts of the country. The Maritime province mines had the market as far as Montreal and wanted protection from the American product.

The reduction made was only eight cents a ton, from 53 cents to 45 cents. He would have liked from the British Columbia standpoint to see coal admitted free to the United States, because the Vancouver Island mines would have benefited to an enormous extent. It was remarkable how the idea that we should not trade with the United States could gain any currency when for years seventy-five per cent of our coal production had gone across the line. Now we probably consumed sixty per cent, but forty per cent is going to the States to-day, duty or no duty.

The Fishing Industry.

British Columbia fisheries it seemed to him would benefit enormously, perhaps more than all other industries put together. What had been a grievance ever since the halibut industry was established was the fishing off the Canadian coast by American fishermen. All these years Canadian fishermen had been faced by a prohibitive duty of one cent a pound on halibut, while American boats caught the fish and shipped them east in enormous quantities, reaping large returns. If our cruisers could only keep the American fishermen outside the three-mile limit they could not carry on fishing profitably. What would happen would be this, and it ought to happen immediately. Canadian bottoms would catch the halibut; there would be no object in the Americans going up. He looked to Prince Rupert becoming one of the great fishing cities of the Pacific, the halibut banks being near there. But both Prince Rupert and Vancouver would be shipping points, whence fish caught in Canadian bottoms would be sent to New York, Boston and other eastern markets.

"I do not take much stock in this loyalty cry which our conservative friends are raising, and the people here take stock in it," said Mr. Templeman in conclusion. "In Saskatchewan the other day Mr. Haultain, whom I consider one of the most able Conservatives in Canada, voted for reciprocity and declared that they could take care of their loyalty there better than any fellows in Toronto. I can remember as a boy how that question of loyalty was raised. The old flag has been waved periodically for fifty years for political effect, and will be waved again with as little effect as in the past. I do not take any stock in that sort of thing whatever. The government that has done more than any other to solidify the Empire, the government that has done more to bring Canada closer to Great Britain, the government that gave preference to Great Britain, sent a contingent to South Africa, that es-

FRANTIC WITH NEURALGIA

"FRUIT-A-TIVES" WILL ALWAYS CURE THIS TROUBLE

Neuralgia is really blood poisoning. To treat it with opium, morphine, cocaine, "headache powders" and other "pain-killers" is a crime.

The only possible way to cure Neuralgia is to purify the blood by making the Kidneys, Bowels and Skin do their proper work in nature's own way.

This is the way "Fruit-a-tives" cures Neuralgia. "Fruit-a-tives" prevents the formation of Uric Acid—keeps the whole system strong and active—and will always cure Neuralgia, Rheumatism and Headaches due to poisoned blood.

established a navy and is prepared to spend millions every year upon it. It is not the government, nor is the Liberal party the party, to be charged with disloyalty to the Empire. (Cheers.)

"Something has been said here tonight about an early election and the necessity of being prepared. I may tell you that there has been no discussion touching the holding of an election, but no person can tell what may happen, and I would advise Liberals not to be caught napping."

"Victoria is Liberal. There are, I believe, more Liberals than Conservatives in this constituency, and the same with Vancouver. The only thing is to get all electors to vote according to their convictions, and then I am sure that Victoria will be found in line once again and the crooked work by the Conservatives in 1908 will have been properly rebuked." (Cheers.)

R. L. Drury.

R. L. Drury expressed his pleasure at being present and congratulated the ward on the perfection of its organization. He repeated his former statement that an election would be held before the year was out and that it would be held on five issues—the naval question and reciprocity. During last election the Conservative party had hammered early and late at the Oriental immigration question; the forged telegram was historic but was only the climax of a whole campaign of misrepresentation as to some future over-running of the province by Japanese.

To-day no one could allege that there had been any such thing. Trades unions and congresses were delicate barometers on such matters, but none of these bodies had been heard from in objection to what the government had done in the matter of Japanese immigration. On the contrary, Sir Wilfrid Laurier had carried away with him from Victoria a written testimonial from the Trade and Labor Council stating that they were satisfied with the Japanese agreement and had no complaint to make. Mr. Drury wished that the next election would be held on the same issue when, he believed, Victoria would reverse its verdict of October 26, 1908.

The only alternative Premier McBride and his followers had to offer on this matter, the only remedy they had, was a Natal act, enforcing an educational test. But as he knew from travel through Japan this would not be a deterrent, because in every school in Japan to-day English was being taught. If the Dominion control was withdrawn to-morrow and the Laurier arrangement governing Japanese immigration abrogated, all the province would have to keep out these Orientals was an act, the provisions of which every Japanese could easily meet. The more this fact was known and the more it was known that labor was distinctly and thoroughly in accord with what the federal government is doing, the more certain would be the victory of the Liberal party. Even the monstrous diabolical campaign which was waged, and forged telegrams, could not prevent that result to-day were an election on.

Mr. Drury dealt briefly with the naval question and with the volte face which the Conservative party has executed on it. The same change of attitude he found on the part of that party in regard to reciprocity. George E. Foster, who to-day was opposing this policy, had made two trips to Washington in an endeavor to obtain what he was now declaring was equivalent to treason and disloyalty, and a sapping of Canadian loyalty. Was it trea-

The Evening Chit-Chat

BY RUTH CAMERON

The talk ran on peddlers and beggars. Molly, the little stenographer lady, was responsible. She had just presented me with a vivid yellow pencil which she had "purchased" from that poor old blind man on the corner who sells shoe laces and pencils.

The cynic had bromidically assured her "He probably had a good deal more money than you have, my child. Lots of those old hypocrites die rich."

The author man had said that it was one of the fulfilled ambitions of his youth always to be able to give to every beggar and buy of every peddler, and the author man's wife had said tartly that she knew that all too well, and wished she had the money he wasted that way. For her part she never gave a penny without investigating, and she thought organized charity much safer.

Then someone remarked that peddlers and beggars usually made pretty long stops at the house of the lady-who-always-knows-somehow, and asked what her policy was.

And this was the contribution of the lady-who-always-knows-somehow:

"Well, you see, sometimes I buy things or give money and sometimes I don't. That depends. But the reason they usually stop so long at my house is because, whether I buy or give or do neither, I always ask them in for a cup of tea."

"Of course, I don't suppose that it is right to give away much money without investigating, but I have a cup of tea, won't pauperize anyone. If a person has been walking all day it ought to seem pretty good to sit down for a few minutes and sip a good cup of tea."

The author man's wife had listened with lifted eyebrows thus far. She could contain herself no longer.

"But, my dear," she burst out, "how does your cook like having all these strange people brought into the kitchen? I'm sure mine would never stand it in the world."

If anyone could ruffle the lady-who-always-knows-somehow, it would be the author man's wife.

Observe, then, her self-control.

"But you see I don't take them into my kitchen," she explained most placidly. "I serve them tea in my living-room just as I would to any guest. Sometimes when they seem very hungry or come near mealtime, I take them into my dining-room and give them something nice. In the summer I make cold tea or lemonade and of course I always have something in the way of crackers or cake."

"I usually eat with them because that puts them more at ease and, do you know, we have the nicest talks. They tell me so many interesting and funny and pathetic things. Did you see that old man with the silver peddle who was around this morning? Well, he and I had a very nice chat on the kind of dogs that are most apt to bite and the proper way to treat a dog when he is thinking of nipping you. And there is one old book agent who I discovered actually used to be a college professor. We have most delightful talks on Emerson and Browning and Carlyle every time he comes."

"And then I seldom buy or give until after the cup of tea and by that time I feel I know what is right to do."

"So you see I find my plan works well in several ways," concluded the lady-who-always-knows-somehow.

"It wouldn't be such a bad way to study character," grudgingly admitted the cynic.

"I always said you were a darling," hugged Molly.

"I expect to pass through this life but once. If, therefore, there is any kindness I can show or any good I can do to any fellow-being, let me not defer or neglect it, for I shall not pass this way again!" quoted the author man softly.

"But don't you all really think that organized charity is safer?" prodded the author man's wife.

Nobody even bothered to answer.

Mrs. C. A. Wilson, nurse and two children, left yesterday for a two weeks' visit to Shawnigan Lake.

Mrs. Hayter Reed, wife of the general superintendent of the C. P. R. hotel system, is a guest at the Empress hotel.

Hon. Price Ellison, minister of finance and agriculture, has returned from a fortnight's visit to his Okanagan home.

Mrs. Arthur Small, 1600 Monterey Ave., Oak Bay, will be at home on the fourth Friday instead of the first Friday of each month.

The Bishop of Columbia, Mrs. Perrin and their children arrived at Montreal on Tuesday, March 14th. They left New York for England on the Adriatic on Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. F. A. McDiarmid have removed from 317 Douglas street to 1029 Belmont street. Mrs. McDiarmid will in future receive on the third Thursday of the month.

H. W. Willis, formerly western manager of the C. P. R. hotel system, has resigned his position as assistant manager of the Claypool hotel, Indianapolis, and has been appointed manager of the Menger hotel, San Antonio, Texas.

The Ladies' Aid of the Belmont Avenue Methodist Sunday school will hold an annual social in the school-room to-morrow evening at 8 o'clock. A good programme has been provided and refreshments will be served. Those who will contribute the programme are: Mr. Robinson, instrumental solo; Miss Steinhilber, recitation; Mrs. O'Connell, solo; Miss Elliott, solo; Miss Boydell, solo; Mrs. J. B. McCallum, recitation; Miss Grist, solo; Mr. Deakin, solo; Mr. Loughhead, recitation; and Mr. Oliver, solo.

A very enjoyable dance was given at the A. O. U. W. hall last night by the Beacon Hill baseball club. The dance is to be made an annual affair by the enterprising club, which this year enters both intermediate and senior teams in the city leagues. The music was good and dancing was kept up till a late hour. The attendance was very large and the arrangements reflected much credit upon the energetic committee in charge.

An organ recital will be given to-morrow evening at St. Paul's Presbyterian church, Victoria West, on the new two-manual organ. The recital will commence at 8.15 o'clock. Mr.

Prize Cups, Trophies, Medals

We are the recognized headquarters for Prize Cups, Trophies, Medals, etc.

Our stock is unrivalled in excellence of quality and beauty of design and prices are so varied that they are within the reach of all well wishers of any branch of sport.

It should be remembered that very often, in place of giving a regular prize cup, a nice trophy would be appreciated; for instance, a lady competing would prefer such a prize in place of a cup.

We also have factory facilities and competent workmen which places us in a position to manufacture medals and any other special work with a degree of excellence unsurpassed.

SPRING MOTOR BONNET.

Included in the early hat displays are some chic motor-bonnets of silk which remind one forcibly of the old-time shaker bonnet. They are, however, attractive and totally different from the many freakish models put out last year. The crown of draped silk falls over a bunch of loops of satin ribbon at back and on top there is a spreading bow of ribbon which serves as trimming. Plain silks and plain ribbons are the favored combinations.

THIS HOME-MADE COUGH SYRUP WILL SURPRISE YOU

Stops Even Whooping Cough Quickly. A Family Supply at Small Cost.

Here is a home-made remedy that takes hold of a cough instantly and will usually cure the most stubborn case in 24 hours. This recipe makes sixteen ounces—a family supply. You couldn't buy as much or as good ready-made cough syrup for $2.50.

Mix two cups of granulated sugar with one cup of warm water, and stir 2 minutes. Put 2½ ounces of Pinex (fifty cents worth) in a 16-oz. bottle, and add the Sugar Syrup. This keeps perfectly and has a pleasant taste—children like it. Braces up the appetite and is slightly laxative, which helps end a cough.

You probably know the medical value of pine in treating asthma, bronchitis and other throat troubles, sore lungs, etc. There is nothing better. Pinex is the most valuable concentrated compound of Norway white pine extract, rich in gualcol and all the natural healing pine elements. Other preparations will not work in this formula.

The prompt results from this inexpensive remedy have made friends for it in thousands of homes in the United States and Canada, which explains why the plan has been imitated often, but never successfully.

A guarantee of absolute satisfaction, or money promptly refunded, goes with this recipe. Your druggist has Pinex or will get it for you. If not, send to the Pinex Co., Toronto, Ont.

INFORMATION FOR NEW SETTLERS

Question Discussed at Meeting of the Canadian Club at Nelson

Nelson, March 20.—At the annual meeting of the Canadian Club of Nelson and District officers for the ensuing year were elected as follows: president, Dr. E. C. Arthur; first vice-president, James H. Schofield, M.P.P.; second vice-president, Fred Irvine; secretary, G. H. Playter; treasurer, J. H. Lawrence; literary correspondent, Rev. Fred H. Graham; executive, above officers, last past president, the three elected members, W. B. Farris, L. Crauford and E. P. Gigot. G. O. Buchanan, of Kaslo, the retiring president, proposed that representation be made to the Dominion government asking for the preparation of a brief treatise on Canada, its free institutions, and the advantages of acquiring citizenship; this treatise to be ably and competently prepared translated into the language of every nation contributing to Canada's immigration, and printed in vast quantities, a copy of this publication being handed to every immigrant on stepping ashore, and adequate supplies being kept in every town and city to be distributed to foreign born settlers and workers. It was explained that the United States government had a publication of this sort, which was such effective tender that immigrants to the United States endeavored to gain their citizenship at the earliest possible moment.

This matter was also referred to the executive, with a favorable recommendation for action.

Mr. Buchanan also mentioned the education of the Doukhobors in English as a question the Canadian Club could well consider. He said the Doukhobors had many good traits, but they were in Canada because they believed that here they would be left alone. He did not object to their not bearing arms, but British Columbia would insist that if they settled here, they should not raise another generation of Doukhobors speaking the Doukhobor language.

E. K. Beaton brought up the matter of inculcating respect for the flag by daily raising and lowering it. In Nelson the practice was to keep it flying day and night alike.

Alex. Leith, treasurer, reported receipts for the year as $132.75 and disbursements $123.55.

In laying down the office of president, Mr. Buchanan reviewed the past year, mentioning the three speakers who were guests of the club, Rev. Mr. Allen, Bishop DePencier and Rev. Dr. Bryce, and characterized the work of the club as enticing to white away a time here the literary birds of passage.

MISS CAMERON ON LOYALTY TO EMPIRE

Illustrated Lecture of Famous Victorian Attended by Royal Personages

The Duke of Connaught showed the interest he is taking in Canada, to which he is to proceed in September as Governor-General, by attending a lecture on Canada by Miss Agnes Deans Cameron, given at the Imperial Institute in London, in connection with the British Women's Emigration Association and the Girls' Friendly Society in North and Central Europe, says "Canada" of recent date. His Royal Highness was accompanied by the Duchess of Connaught and Princess Victoria Patricia, Princess Louise, Duchess of Argyll, the Duke of Argyll, and the Landgrave of Hesse. Lord Strathcona took the chair, and the audience included the Baroness Deichmann, the Baroness de Knop, Sir Wm. Vincent, the Hon. Mrs. Joyce, the Hon. Maud Pauncefoot, the Hon. J. H. Turner (agent-general for British Columbia), Professor Dunstan, Major Luard, Mr. Ward Cook, and Miss Mary Williams.

Miss Cameron's lecture—or rather "talk"—was characteristic in every way. Her descriptions of Canada, in the hurried trip which she took her audience from the East to the West, were graphic and interesting, and her narrative was vivacious and arresting. It was illustrated by a fine series of views and portraits.

Speaking of Canadian sentiment, Miss Cameron said she had been asked whether Canada was loyal to England, and her reply was, "No; Canada is loyal to the Empire. Let England look to it that she is loyal to the Empire." In England she had heard the phrase "disintegration of the Empire"; but in the Dominion anybody who used it seriously would be considered disloyal. Those who felt alarmed at what they called the Americanization of Canada did not realize the inherited pride of the Canadian in belonging to the greatest of Empires. Besides, Canadians would have nothing to gain by joining the republic, which Canada was destined to surpass in wealth and population as she did in extent of territory.

Lord Strathcona, in thanking the royal visitors for their presence, referred to the appointment of the Duke of Connaught as Governor-General. "The five years spent by the Duke and Duchess of Argyll in the Dominion left," he said, "a bright and pleasant memory, and when it was announced that their Royal Highnesses the Duke and Duchess of Connaught were going to proceed to Canada, a wave of enthusiasm ran through that vast Dominion. We look forward to their coming, not only on account of their close connection with our most gracious sovereign, but also on personal grounds. The Duke is no stranger to Canada. We look back to his having been there as

CHANGE IN WOMAN'S LIFE

Made Safe by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Granville, Vt.—"I was passing through the Change of Life and suffered from nervousness and other annoying symptoms, and I can truly say that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has proved worth mountains of gold to me, as it restored my health and strength. I never forget to tell my friends what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done for me during this trying period. Complete restoration to health means so much to me that for the sake of other suffering women I am willing to make my trouble public, so you may publish this letter."—MRS. CHAS. BARCLAY, R.F.D., Granville, Vt.

No other medicine for woman's ills has received such wide-spread and unqualified endorsement. No other medicine we know of has such a record of cures as has Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

For more than 30 years it has been curing woman's ills such as inflammation, ulceration, fibroid tumors, irregularities, periodic pains and nervous prostration, and it is unequalled for carrying women safely through the period of change of life.

Mrs. Pinkham, at Lynn, Mass., invites all sick women to write her for advice. Her advice is free, and always helpful.

Prince Arthur in 1869-1870, when he gained the affectionate regard of the people of Canada. Not only so, but when, after service in India, the Duke and Duchess passed through Canada, they were regarded not as strangers but as old friends. We all feel that we ought to be, as we are, most thankful that they are coming among us in the great position of representatives of our gracious King, and that we shall have the privilege of addressing them not only as now, as Royal Highnesses, but as Their Excellencies in Canada. It is a privilege to me, your Royal Highness, to be able to express to you the feelings of the people of Canada, who are looking forward to having you among them.

WHAT RADIUM CAN UNDENIABLY CURE

The gift of a gramme of radium made by Sir Ernest Cassel to the new Radium Institute, which he founded at the suggestion of the late King, will inaugurate a series of experiments of great significance, says the London Daily Mail. To this institute, now practically ready for work, and to the researches in progress at the Cancer Research Department of the Middlesex hospital and at kindred institutions the scientific world is eagerly looking for further knowledge of this mysterious element. For in the elucidation of the powers of radium lies the answer to the vital question: What can radium cure?

Twelve years of eager experiment have passed since Professor and Mme. Curie announced the discovery of radium. Almost at once reports of the curative powers of the new mineral were published. Has radium, after twelve years' tests, justified that early reputation?

The deceased states in which radium has been tried range from the most malignant internal cancers to baldness. Such widely diverse ailments as facial paralysis, neuralgia, rheumatism, hydrophobia, indigestion, and skin diseases have been reported as cured by the wonderful new mineral. A few years ago reports of a cure of hydrophobia in rabbits presented to the Scientific Academy of Bologna by a well-known Italian professor evoked such enthusiasm that it was freely conjectured that the Pasteur treatment of hydrophobia would soon be pushed into the background by the new radium treatment.

Seven years ago two distinguished professors of Konigsberg university published some startling results of the deadly effect the radium rays exert on disease bacteria of all kinds. Having first sprinkled live typhoid bacilli on a gelatine plate they exposed the plate in a dark room to weak radium emanations for forty-eight hours. At the end of that time it was found that the bacilli were either killed or their growth was completely stopped. Similar good results were obtained with the germs of cholera and anthrax. These experiments, emphasizing the pronounced germicidal effect of radium were looked upon as opening up a new field of treatment for infectious diseases of the skin.

In 1903 a distinguished St. Petersburg savant announced in various medical journals his discovery that certain of the blind were able to distinguish objects illuminated by radium rays.

The professor expressed the strong hope that by further experimentation with the wonderful element he would be able to restore the sight of sufferers from certain varieties of blindness.

These published reports were taken most seriously in German scientific circles; so much so that Professor Greef, the principal of the Eye hospital at Berlin university, was instructed by the Prussian minister of education to go thoroughly into the Russian doctor's experiments.

The published reports (many of them in reputable medical journals) of apparently authentic cures of deep-seated cancers, both the carcinoma and sarcoma, by use of radium were during the early years of radium experimentation too numerous to record.

Of all these therapeutic uses claimed for radium, how many have stood the test of time? Sir Frederick Trevelyan in a lecture at the London hospital last year summed up the situation in a way which should give food for thought to the general public, who are too apt to be led away in pursuit of vain hopes.

"It has appeared to me," he told the great concourse of medical men present, "that there is possibly a great future for radium in the domain of surgical therapeutics. I say 'possibly' because one must exercise the greatest caution when speaking of the potentialities of new remedies. One is tempted to look too favorably upon them. They are things of great expectations and sooner or later must be associated with disappointment."

To return to the innumerable curative uses of radium which were to revolutionize both medicine and surgery, few have come up to their earlier expectations. Rheumatism and neuralgia are still most intractable ailments, facial paralysis still defies the physician's efforts, the Pasteur Institute has not outgrown its usefulness, while ordinary germs are still in common use notwithstanding the deadly effects which radium emanations are known to have on bacteria. The hope which was held out to the blind by the Russian experimenter was withdrawn with cruel suddenness when the German eye specialist who investigated the "cures" reported that blind persons can not at present expect the very slightest help from radium.

The thousands of sufferers from true cancer both in Europe and America who have let the time when an operation might have been successful drift by, while undergoing "radium cures," compose one of the saddest chapters in the history of this wonderful element. Radium as at present used, cannot cure cancer.

It is a relief to turn from such failures to a study of those months' conditions in which radium has a fully proven practical curative value. Broadly, its greatest successes have been in the treatment of benign superficial skin lesions. Disfiguring birthmarks, composed chiefly of thin-walled blood vessels, old scars which have taken on an abnormal growth, certain types of eczema have been healed by radium in a shorter time and with less inconvenience and disfigurement than would have been possible by any other known means.

In rodent ulcer, also surprisingly good results have been obtained, cases which have defied all other treatment for months or years sometimes healing rapidly under radium exposures. As to the superficial skin cancers, the epitheliomata, authorities differ, some recording successes from radium treatment and others only a disheartening series of failures. In respect to the true cancers, deep-seated, rapidly fatal growths, the claims of even its most ardent supporters are of the most doubtful character. In fact, it would be difficult to find a reputable surgeon in London who would advise a cancer patient

Westwood Farm Subdivision

THE tramline which the B. C. Electric Railway now propose to construct runs through this property with stopping station on it. There is plenty of rich land, good springs and lovely building sites. It is close to church and school, and quite close to Prospect lake, and is in a beautiful, sunny and cheerful location. When the line is constructed it will be only a few minutes' run to town. You ought to consider this. You can buy from six acres up at small cost, compared with city lots. Make a delightful home with a nice garden. Keep your own cow and poultry. You may like the country better than living in the city, where you are at work all day. It is a change. We consider this property a splendid investment and we are of the opinion that it is only a question of time before you would nearly double your money. Prices, $350 per acre and up.

PROPOSAL TO FORM NEW MUNICIPALITY

Meeting Will Be Held in the Cedar Hill Temperance Hall on Thursday

Gordon Head, March 20.—On Friday evening the annual Irish concert was held in the district hall, under the auspices of the Gordon Head Mutual Improvement society. As usual the concert was very well attended and great credit is to be given the managing committee for the excellent programme. The funds are to be donated to the new piano the members soon hope to own. After the program held refreshments were served and dancing was kept up till the early hours of the morning. The programme was as follows: Instrumental solo, George Oard; song, D. Hutchison; recitation, Sidney Williams; violin and cello duet, Leslie and Harold Day; song, Miss Shirley O'Brien; recitation, Cecil Gray, accompanied by Miss MacMurray; recitation, Sam Pollock; song, Percy Harland; song, Miss Marion O'Brien; song, George Oard; song, D. Hutchison.

On Thursday evening next at eight o'clock a meeting will be held in the Cedar Hill Temperance hall to discuss the question whether it would be to the advantage of certain wards to withdraw from the Saanich municipality and to form a new municipality to be called North Victoria.

On Tuesday evening next a basket social will be held in the Cedar Hill Temperance hall under the auspices of the Dramatic club. A programme is being prepared and all who attend are assured a pleasant evening.

On Wednesday evening, the 15th inst., a social and dance was held in the Cedar Hill Temperance hall by the "Bachelors." A very pleasant evening was spent.

FATAL SNOWSLIDE.
Miner Tells of Death of Comrade Near Kalo.

Kalo, March 20.—The inquest on the body of Patrick George Johnson was held at the city hall by Dr. G. Hartin, coroner of Nelson, who gave a verdict that the unfortunate man came to his death by suffocation in a snowslide near the Granite King mine, on the south fork of Kalo creek, death being instantaneous.

Along with George Banbury who was with him in the slide, and some parties in Mullen, Idaho, Johnson took a lease on the Granite King, a silver-lead property on the south fork of Kalo creek. While going to the mine he was caught in the slide which buried both men. Banbury was not buried so deep as his partner and one hand was free. With it he succeeded in scraping the snow off his head, and still stuck fast in the tight packed snow he called on the Flint cabin for help.

Charles Anderson who was shovelling snow at the time heard the cries of Banbury and hastened, shovel in hand, to the rescue. He first removed the snow from around Banbury's head and asked if he was hurt. Banbury replied that he was not, so Anderson bent his energies to the task of shovelling out Banbury who came out scathless. By this time Victor Anderson came from the Flint cabin, but Johnson was not to be seen, although the two men were close together at the time the slide struck. Banbury felt sure that Johnson was in the slide. Their two hats were at the foot of the slide. After digging between 25 and 40 minutes they found Johnson and feeling his pulse they found the heart had ceased to beat. He was in a sitting posture, and neither his face nor body bore marks or bruises. The wet snow which held him like a vice was gently removed and such expedients as could be used to induce respiration were tried without avail. The body was placed on a toboggan after being wrapped in burlap and taken to south fork station, 7½ miles, where a team of horses was secured to haul the burden to Kalo.

CHEAPER POWER.

Prince Rupert, March 20.—That the city council is seriously considering the question of water power as a means of lighting the city in the near future was evident from the proceedings at a recent sitting of that body.

The city engineer forwarded a letter from M. E. Maxwell, of Camrose, Alta., a consulting electrical engineer, who offered to come to Prince Rupert and offer into the question of increasing the capacity of the present plant by means of producer gas and otherwise. His charges would be $25 a day for week days while on duty and travelling expenses, the whole cost not to exceed $500. The engineer recommended his employment.

Ald. Hilditch thought this might lie on the table for six weeks. Ald. Clayton did not agree with Ald. Hilditch that there was time. Time was important and he moved that the engineer take the steps to secure the expert.

Ald. Hilditch did not believe that with coal at $4 a ton and the cost of operation this work would be a feasible way of supplying light. A cheap power was essential. They should go at once to get water power. If this were left over for six weeks it would allow plenty of time to take this matter up if deemed necessary.

Ald. Smith agreed with the suggestion, and the report was laid on the table.

BUILDING AT NELSON.

Nelson, March 20.—Details of construction work in hand by local builders show that at present Nelson contractors have under contract work aggregating over $140,000, all in Nelson with the exception of $30,000, which is the figure of the contract for the erection of a new court-house at Kalo.

Nelson seems to be on the eve of one of the greatest epochs of building expansion that the city has ever seen. Every contractor in the city is endeavoring to rush work to completion in order to undertake other jobs awaiting him.

NEW WESTMINSTER CITY HALL SITE

Hon. W. Pugsley Will Favorably Recommend Proposed Sale of Property

For some months past efforts have been made by the civic authorities to obtain permission from the Dominion authorities to dispose of the city hall site and devote the proceeds to erecting a suitable headquarters for local government on other premises, allowing the buildings now occupied to be converted into emporiums for private enterprises, says the New Westminister News.

The city hall was granted to the city by the Dominion government for library purposes, and after the fire, in connection with the library, permission was obtained for the use of the site for a combined library and city hall, but the city at no time secured absolute control of the property, it having remained inalienable from specified purposes. This concession through the assistance of the Westminster Liberal association executive, has now been secured.

Hon. W. Pugsley, minister of public works has given his assurance that when the necessary documents in the matter are formally and in due course before him, he will recommend the granting of the city's request. As Mr. Pugsley is head of the department having jurisdiction in the premises, his favorable recommendation is tantamount to the assurance that the desired boon will doubtless be duly advised.

The location of the city hall which will replace the present building has not been decided upon, although a number of sites have been suggested. The removal of the city hall would entail the shifting of the Central fire station which would probably be transferred towards the west end of the city, somewhere near Chinatown, probably on Carnarvon street.

CARIBOO MINING CLAIM SOLD.

Barkerville, March 20.—Messrs. Thompson and Schilling, of Sugar Creek, have sold their claim to an English syndicate. The new company intend operating this claim as soon as the season opens. They will build a wagon road from the main road out to their property, and also install a hydraulic plant. Mr. Thompson, who has just returned from the Kootenay, reports that much interest is being taken in this district, and that it is intended to quite a number of quartz claims will be taken up this year.

Persons desiring to obtain the approval of the City Council to subdivisional plans, are hereby notified to submit said plans in the first instance to the Chairman of the Street Committee, Alderman W. A. Gleason, and the City Engineer.

WELLINGTON J. DOWLER, City Clerk's Office, March 12th, 1911.

Fire Prevention

Attention is hereby called to the following provisions of the Fire Prevention By-Law, namely:

"24. It shall be unlawful for any person to deposit any ashes or cause the same to be deposited or placed or permit the same to be or remain in any wooden vessel, or upon the floor of any building or in any place or premises belonging to or occupied by him or her, or others, or in any metallic vessel within two inches of any wood-work or structure, or place, or permit the mine to fill with water, and makes material uncovered within his court-yard or lot of ground within ten feet of any building.

"25. Every owner or occupier of a building shall at all times keep the roof of such buildings free and clear

"from moss or vegetable growths and particularly shall in the month of March in each year clear the roof from such growth."

WELLINGTON J. DOWLER, City Clerk's Office, Victoria, B. C., March 17th, 1911.

STREET CLOSED

Notice is hereby given that Fort street between Yates street and St. Charles street will be closed to traffic until further notice.

APPLICATIONS

Applications, accompanied by testimonials and references, will be received at the office of the undersigned until Friday, the 24th inst., at 3 p. m., for the position of clerk in the Treasurer's Office. Applicants with a knowledge of book-keeping preferred. Salary to be fixed by the Council. Information as to duties of position will be furnished by the City Comptroller.

WELLINGTON J. DOWLER, City Clerk's Office, Victoria, B. C., March 15th, 1911.

NUGGET MINE MILL

Nelson, March 20.—That there is sufficient ore ready to be taken out of the workings of the Nugget mine to keep the mill in operation during the three months of April, May and June, when the melting of the snow causes the mine to fill with water, and makes operation difficult, was the statement made by W. B. Pool, manager of that well known Sheep creek property. Mr. Pool came in with a brick, the product of one month's run of the mill, which assays in the neighborhood of $5,000.

Mr. Pool also stated that from assays recently made there was between $20,000 and $30,000 worth of ore lying on the dump at the mine. This was taken out during the operations on No. 1, No. 2 and No. 3 tunnels.

TO HONOR SIMON FRASER.

New Westminister, March 20.—An order has been placed for bronze bust of Simon Fraser, the discoverer of the Fraser river, to be placed on the monument erected in his honor on Albert Crescent about three years ago. The commission was given by A. E. White, acting for a committee in which Judge Howay and other gentlemen in the city are interested, to Henri and Philippe Herbert, of Ottawa, the leading sculptors in Canada. A brass plate is also being made on which will be inscribed a brief record of the first navigation of the Fraser river. It is estimated that the cost will total about $2,000. Of this about $900 has already been subscribed or promised which will cover the cost of the bust delivered at New Westminister. Another $500 is due the R. A. and I. Society in connection with the present monument and about $400 will be needed to cover the cost incidental with the erection of the bust.

BUILDERS' EXCHANGE.

At a meeting of the members of the Victoria Builders' Exchange, in their offices, Pemberton building, steps were taken towards putting the exchange in good working condition for the summer months. It was felt that the benefits accruing to the members from the exchange are invaluable to the contractors of the city.

For some time past no meetings have been held, but every new contractor in Victoria will be given an opportunity to become a member at a general meeting to be held at an early date. The exchange is in a flourishing condition financially, and it is now proposed to extend its scope as much as possible and to hold regular meetings for the discussion of matters pertaining to the building trade.

Thomas Catterall, who has held the position of president since 1907, retired from that office and was tendered a hearty vote of thanks for his untiring services in holding the exchange together during his term of office. J. W. Bolden was elected his successor.

PASSING SHOW

New Grand Theatre.

Jack Irwin has made a reputation as a daring wireless operator, and in his lecture at the Grand yesterday, with illustrated slides showing the airship "America," proved as good a lecturer as he is an operator. The innovation was distinct in vaudeville but was eminently successful.

Mr. Irwin gave a most interesting lecture and showed pictures of the big airship in course of construction and in course of flight. All the interesting points, and they are very many, are told by him during the half hour he is on the stage, and there is never a slow moment nor is there ever one that is not fully interesting to all.

He introduces little events that occur to him and these prevent the lecture from taking too scientific an appearance. As the pictures are shown, he tells what happened at the moment, showing events from the making of the ship till after the rescue and the return to land on the steamer "Trent."

Mr. Irwin was given a splendid reception when his lecture closed yesterday. Hall brothers open the show with an exhibition of advanced athletics, and it will be a long time before a show like it comes this way again. Lifting a man weighing 180 pounds and juggling the body about as if it was a small parcel, performing extraordinary and unquestionably strength-testing feats without the aid of any appliances, the two got a round of applause second to nothing on the bill.

George Moore and Florence Elliott presented "A Matrimonial Substitute," and were successful, for they have a laughing sketch of the ripest kind. Any old sober-sided that does not laugh during "A Matrimonial Substitute" is past hope.

Haskell and Renaud presented the dress with a thousand mirrors, and reflected everything in sight. Clothes are a feature of this act, some singing being added and a finish made with an Apache dance.

Bigelow and Campbell are responsible for syncope, melodies and clever piano playing. They act well like all the others on this week's bill; there was not a slow moment to it, or any of the others.

"The Midnight Sons."

"What's in a name?" is a question that has agitated the mind of every sentimental maid since numerals went out of date as ear marks of identity. After viewing a performance of "The Midnight Sons," which was produced in the Victoria theatre last night, one might be excused thinking that everything was in a name for the paradoxical reason that in the case under notice there was very little outside of the name to commend it.

"The Midnight Sons" is a most charming title for a musical comedy; it exudes the delicious vapor of irresponsible youth, which everyone condemns until they lose it either by default or over-indulgence; it is suggestive of the exuberance and blatant buoyancy of health committing suicide in a glow of intoxicating rapture; it is the name applied by common consent to the foolhardy shimmers of adolescent insanity, the burning pool through which youth plunges its way in reckless disregard to the leaden valleys of cold maturity beyond.

As seen in the theatre, however, "The Midnight Sons" was a betrayal. It was full of the common vices that render things and people tedious and lacking in all the uncommon virtues that make things interesting and attractive. There was nothing in it one might not see nightly in any music hall of the land, and surely to associate the sprightly pace of midnight sons with the slow, uninteresting amble of poor vaudeville was a sad misnomer. The title of the play is like a faint in a fencing bout—it draws.

It must not be imagined that there was any dearth of amusing scenes or thrilling incidents throughout the production, however. The special feature of the performance was the vast number of the cast. They were legion. Quantity simply overwhelmed quality. This condition of things, while it had a leveling influence generally, had the particular effect of burnishing the bright spots. With traditional elativeness the plot played hide and seek with the principals and won out most cunningly. Musically the production was in a rather consumptive condition, and its comedy was more sought for than forthcoming.

There was one star, however, who managed to pierce the film of mediocrity. Geo. W. Munro in the role of the cook who wouldn't cook for everybody, found a part for which his physical proportions and vocal eccentricities found a ready expression. He was ever the ebullient joker of the piece and when he left the stage the gasp was more than a mere physical one.

Alma Youlin, who rendered the part of Mrs. Carrie McGin, the much-married widow, strove to maintain the vocal average and succeeded in ingratiating herself with the audience by virtue of her efforts.

The personnel of the chorus consisted of the English Pony Ballet, the Mary Gardeners (a very pretty bunch) the serving maids and college boys.

The piece de resistance of the evening was provided by Rosalie and Hilmar Ceballos, who performed a most wonderful series of gyrations in dance form. Taken as a whole the production was well dressed and well staged, and it found a willing response in the plaudits of the audience. It is being repeated to-night.

STOCK-BREEDERS' PRIZES.

Increased Encouragement For Exhibitors at Fall Fairs.

At a recent meeting of the Stock-breeders' Association of British Columbia, the decision was reached to offer a number of prizes toward promotion of the success of the features of the Victoria Agricultural Association's autumn show related to the work of the society. Horses and sheep were selected.

In respect to the former, it was decided in the first class to give prizes of $5 and $20 respectively for the best pair of heavy draught animals, mares or geldings, registered or unregistered, three years old or under, bred in British Columbia and exhibited by the owners; similar prizes are provided for the best two animals of light breed, mares or geldings, registered or unregistered, three years old or under, bred in the province and exhibited by the owners.

In sheep first class, first and second prizes respectively of $20 and $15 are to be provided for the best ram lamb and two ewes, registered, medium or short wool breed, bred in British Columbia and exhibited by the owners. Prizes in equal amount are provided for the best ram lamb and two ewe lambs, registered, long wool breed, bred in the province and exhibited by owners. All exhibitors are of course required to be members of the association in order to be entitled to compete for these special money prizes.

In connection with the interesting stock judging competitions at the Victoria show, a feature that has attained extensive and well deserved popularity of late years, it was arranged to offer prizes in two classes, the first for competitors over 21 years of age, and the second for competitors 21 years old and under.

Six classes of live stock are to be judged, including heavy and light horses, beef and dairy cattle, sheep and swine, each student being required to judge two out of these six classes, and the prizes to be awarded on the basis of 40 per cent. for placing and 60 per cent. for reasons. The prizes allotted are: 1st, $10; 2nd, $10; 3rd, $5; 4th, $5.

Chronic Bronchitis—Nervous Debility

The sincere words of praise of Miss Sarah G. Bates, who was cured after she had given up all hopes of recovery, are certainly encouraging to all sufferers.

In her letter she says: "I had been sick several years with chronic bronchitis, liver disease and general nervous debility, but could not get any relief until I commenced taking Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey. Now I am much better and know your valuable medicine is what has caused it. I can recommend it to all sufferers from chronic diseases."—Sarah G. Bates, Arctic, R. I.

When you feel weak and run down and all out of sorts, you need a pure tonic stimulant that will build you up, enrich your blood, quicken your heart action and restore your strength in a healthy manner.

Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey

the world's greatest medicine, has been doing all this for the past fifty years. It is an absolutely pure, gentle and invigorating stimulant and tonic. It overcomes all weakening, wasting and run-down conditions of the body, brain and muscle, giving the system power to throw off and resist coughs, colds, grip, catarrhs, bronchitis, asthma and lung troubles; it is a wonderful remedy in the prevention and cure of consumption, pneumonia, malaria, low fevers and all weakening and wasting conditions if taken as directed.

All liquor dealers, or direct, $1.50 a large bottle. Refuse substitutes and imitations, they are impure and dangerous. Send for medical booklet and doctor's advice, both sent free. The Duffy Malt Whiskey Co., Rochester, N. Y.

My how a cheerful bed-room makes a cheerful wife.

Dear Amy:—

When people spend nearly one-half of their time in their bedrooms, I don't see why they don't fix them up nicely, and for the life of me, the one most necessary thing in a home is a pretty, comfortable bed. I just know John can work harder, because I make for him a restful place to sleep. You just ought to see our bedroom, Amy. I'm proud of it. Come soon.

As Always,

Lou.
